Lady Slips the Skirt — Extensively reviewed in this issue, our Movie Editor dubbed it "the new clothes scandal", which he said would bring "a new era of unbridled vision". He was proved true. The film is a masterpiece of nudity, and the heroine, played by Marla Mason, is the most controversial figure in recent cinema. Her performance is breathtaking, and the film is a must-see for anyone interested in the nude film phenomenon.

The Last Tango in Paris — The film is set in the city of Paris, where the main character, a mysterious and enigmatic man, is searching for his lost love. The film is a masterpiece of visual storytelling, with stunning cinematography and a score that perfectly complements the mood of the film. The performances are also excellent, with Marlon Brando delivering a powerful and nuanced portrayal of the main character.
