SCHOOLGIRL HAS CRUSH ON JONI MITCHELL!

You listen to Joni because she does what no one else can do, and it's beautiful.

—Anne Hutchinson

When I walk into Tower Records, the first thing I see is Joni Mitchell's new album on display. I go over to look at it, and think, "What a beautiful album. It's perfect for the season of change in my life."

The music on Joni's new album is so intimate and honest. It's like she's telling you her secrets, and you're the only one she trusts to hear them.

The lyrics are so powerful and moving. It's like she's saying something to the world, and you're the only one who can hear it.

The songs are so beautiful, I can't get enough. I listen to them every day, and they make me feel like I'm in a dream world.

The music is so soothing, it's like she's soothing my soul. It's like she's saying, "It's going to be okay, you can trust me." And you do.

The music is so powerful, it's like she's changing the world. It's like she's saying, "You can change the world, you just have to believe in yourself." And you do.

The music is so beautiful, I can't get enough. I listen to it every day, and it's like I'm in a different world.

SATIN UNDERWEAR AND PACKETS THAT SMILE

Today when the newest in clothes are old 30's and 40's styles enhanced with glitter and sequins, the lower-keyed glow of satin embroidered flowers on a sheer and delicate ground is a definite modern touch.

ON THE COVER

A woman in a modern dress adorned with elegant embroidery and shimmering sequins. The dress features a delicate lace trim and a headdress that complements the overall look. The image conveys a sense of elegance and modernity, as the woman stands confidently, highlighting the intricate details of her attire.

February has a special hold if any time of the year. With the January thaw just ending, there's a thawing of inhibitions and traditions. It is a time of renewal and a break from the hard winter months. Many cities and towns embrace this time with festivals and events, creating a vibrant atmosphere that encourages people to come together and enjoy the warmth and beauty of early spring.

THREE POSSIBLE HANGOUTS

And your waitress, dressed in a snug white house coat and red gingham apron, she did us, with a cheery push. "What are you going to have from the bar? I know I can tell, the teas. 'That you're drinkers.'"

Kathleen Woodward

When we need a place for a special occasion or just a fun night out, we look to our local watering hole, a place where the atmosphere is warm and inviting. This particular bar has become our go-to spot for both socializing and relaxation. The stools are plush, the music is upbeat, and the drinks are just what we need to unwind after a long day.
