Polishing Navy Brass

Admiral Zumwalt is going from the Navy to June 28th and leaving for a new assignment which includes the post of National Security Advisor to the President. The Navy brass in the words of one admiral is "too hard to read." But the White House has a procedure for reading the men - the newest admiral in the Navy is the only one in the last position in the Navy's five-star hierarchy who can write and read his own resume.

To senior officers, Zumwalt is a traitor to his class. He represents all that is bad to these people.

Could This Be Just Junk From Java?

-Jennifer Kortee-

Last week, advance news of a show’s coming to Hollywood and the word “Junk” set off a frenzy of excitement among the audience. The show, called “Junk,” is a hit in Los Angeles, and now it’s coming to New York. The show features exotic dancers, singers, and an audience that’s been described as “ecstatic.”

The show is directed by the famous director, John F. Doe, and the producers are the renowned Doe Productions. The show is set in a Japanese restaurant, and the audience is seated around tables, watching the performers. The dances are in various styles, from traditional Japanese to modern and contemporary. The music is also a mix of traditional and contemporary sounds, including jazz, rock, and pop.

The show has been a great success in Los Angeles, and now it’s coming to New York. The audience is expected to be just as enthusiastic as it was in Los Angeles. The show opens on May 2nd at the Shank playbill, and it runs for a limited time. The show is recommended for audiences of all ages, and it’s sure to be a hit in New York. Don’t miss out on this amazing show — get your tickets now!

An Awkward Honeymoon

Every time Mr. Smith took a bow he would pause on Miss Carver and drag her from her seat to share the applause, and the same moodily beckoning the orchestra to rise, like Zarathustra summoning the sunrise.

—Jonathan Saville

In the spring of 1919, while on a visit to Chicago, Mr. Smith met Miss Carver, who was then working as a secretary in a local bank. They fell in love and were married the following year. Mr. Smith was delighted to have found a wife who shared his love of the stage and music. They spent many happy years together, traveling to Europe and attending operas and concerts. Miss Carver was often overwhelmed by the attention she received from audiences, but Mr. Smith was always there to support her. They remained together until Mr. Smith's death in 1933.

Walking Tall — Laura Wells was a woman who needed a challenge and a goal. Laura wanted to run a marathon. Many girls may not think that it would be possible, but Laura decided to prove them wrong. She trained hard and finally on September 25th, she ran her first marathon. It was an incredible journey for her and an inspiration for other women who may be intimidated by the challenge.

SAVILLE MISGUIDED

Dear Mr. Smith,

I am writing to express my concern about the new Saiville High School. Ever since the new administration took over, the school has become more focused on test scores and less on the well-being of the students. The students are feeling more stressed and less connected to their teachers. I hope that you will consider making a change in the way the school is run.

Best regards,

Wizard's Warned

Dear All,

I was recently warned by the wizard that there may be a great danger coming to our world. The wizard said that a dark force is rising and that it is up to all of us to prevent it. I urge everyone to be vigilant and to do their part in keeping our world safe.

Sincerely,

Women in Science — There is a growing movement to encourage more women to pursue careers in science. This is important because science is a field that can benefit greatly from the diverse perspectives that women can bring. I hope that more girls will be inspired to follow in the footsteps of these trailblazers.

Hearing the Voice — I recently had a surreal experience of hearing a voice in my head. The voice was telling me things that I had never thought of before. It was a bit alarming, but also interesting. I am not sure what to make of it, but I wanted to share my experience with you.

Visiting Memory Lane in Spring Valley is like travelling through the lived-in history of the utilities of Disneyland. It's so much fun amid the almost embarrassing.
