For our matchless friends

—Jacqueline Burt & Margo Words

Whatever happened to our pet dogs? A few years ago they were the best of all friends, gone everywhere, always ready to play and romp and make us laugh. Now they're gone, and we miss them.

The dogs are gone, but their memories remain. They were our constant companions, our faithful friends. We miss them, but we also remember the joy they brought into our lives.

There are many ways to keep the memory of our pets alive. We can make a photo album, or create a scrapbook to capture the happy moments we shared. We can also plant a tree in their memory, or make a donation to a pet rescue organization.

We'll never forget our beloved dogs, and we'll continue to keep their memory alive. In the meantime, we'll cherish the memories we have, and look forward to reuniting with them in the afterlife.

Leakproof Fantasies

— Duncan Shepherd

Although the Unions and the Anti Unions have participated in various public meetings of the San Diego chapter of the American Federation of Labor, their recent efforts to have the KPOM station bought by the city of San Diego and the KPOM station to buy a new building in the downtown area have been unsuccessful. The KPOM station has been bought by the city of San Diego and the KPOM station will buy a new building in the downtown area.

Dear Santa!

I am sorry to hear that your two sisters are still alive. I believe that you should have stopped seeing them.

When we were little, your two sisters used to come and visit us every Christmas. We would go out to dinner with them and they would bring us presents. But after you stopped seeing them, they went away and we have never seen them again.

I hope that you have a happy Christmas and that you find your two sisters again.

Sincerely,

Dear Mother Alice,

It's a thrill to read about all the great things happening at the L.A. LGBT Center. I'm especially pleased to see so many young people getting involved. I'm looking forward to hearing more about the upcoming events at the center.

Love,
Matthew Alice

Don't ask US...

We spent $400 on advertising in the Penndrake and the P.B. Sentinel and got zero response. Our ads in the Reader have increased our business in San Diego 30-40%. Pacific Audio, Pacific Beach

We got 47 Records, East San Diego

I'm getting more business from my Reader ad than with the money I spend on the daily papers. Stripp Nu, Golden Hills

The fact that I just signed a 24-time contract with the Reader should speak for itself.

Another Stoic Band

The party is on again. It's a loud, boisterous affair at the new location at 801 8th Ave. There are some changes, but it's still the same old crowd. I hope you can make it.
