I Scream, You Scream...

- Cyril Bay

It's true that the ice cream man doesn't look like a profession one. No one asks how he drives, how he's hired or how he gets to work. It's a job for the summer, for San Diego. No one has bothered to remember the name of the man who brings the ancient delight of ice cream to the streets. And no one appreciates it. But what a shame! It's a job that deserves a lot of appreciation. For the ice cream man is one of the most important people in our lives. He brings us joy and happiness. He gives us a reason to smile.

But what is an ice cream man? He's a person who, every day, goes around the city with a cart, a small cart filled with ice cream. He walks the streets, looking for his customers. He talks to them, asks them what they want. He gives them their ice cream, and they pay him. And then he moves on to the next customer. It's a simple job, but it's a job that needs recognition.

The ice cream man is not just a job, but a part of our life. He's a friend, a neighbor, a person who brings us快乐. He's a part of the city's fabric. He's a part of the city's soul.

So let's remember the ice cream man. Let's appreciate him. Let's thank him for bringing us joy. Let's make sure he knows how much we appreciate what he does. For without him, our lives would be less happy. Our days would be less bright. Our spirits would be less lifted. So let's remember the ice cream man. Let's remember him for what he does. Let's remember him for who he is.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HIP

Lost in the Space Theatre

Anne Hutchinson

Once upon a time, way back in the days of yore, there was a place called "Space Theatre". It was a place where movie-goers could escape reality and immerse themselves in a world of imagination. The movies that were shown there were not just any ordinary flicks, but true classics that have stood the test of time. The interior of Space Theatre was truly remarkable, with its dark curtains, velvet seats, and the smell of freshly printed pages. It was a place where dreams came to life.

My favorite memory of Space Theatre was when my parents took me there for the first time. I was just a little girl then, but I remember how excited I was to see a movie. The lights dimmed, and the projector started up, projecting images onto the screen. The story was about a prince who was trapped in a castle, and he had to find his way out to save his kingdom from the evil sorcerer. The movie was made in the 1930s and was a classic, but it still managed to capture my imagination. I was so engrossed in the story that I forgot about the world outside the theatre.

The Space Theatre may be a thing of the past now, but it will always hold a special place in my heart. It was a place where I learned to love movies and how they can transport you to other worlds. Even though the theatre is gone, the memories I have of it will never fade away.

FLUFFY LEADING FRAGMENTS

The organizers of the concert seemed to feel that if you live in Rancho Bernardo you must be too blinded by your sensibilities to tell the difference between a decent amplification system and a piece of junk. Clearly, the best way to handle this is to keep as far away from the music as possible. Everything's just fine, but you have to keep your distance.
