CANCER CONNECTION

The dilemma was obvious: cyanide was simultaneously the anti-cancer element in the extract and the toxic ingredient as well.

At both universities and hospitals across the U.S., the researchers have been working hard to find the right balance between the two elements in order to create an effective cancer treatment. Despite the challenges, many believe that this discovery could eventually lead to a cure for cancer.

DELICIOUS, DISAPPOINTING AND DISTRESSING

"Tales from the Vienna Woods" is the archetypal waltz, the metawaltz, the urwaltz, the Platonic idea of waltzes.

JOHN BARRY

Dear Sir/Madam,

I was pleased to learn that the Plaza Department Store is now playing "Tales from the Vienna Woods." This is the archetypal waltz, the metawaltz, the urwaltz, the Platonic idea of waltzes. What is it about this record that makes it so universally appealing? Is it the melody, the rhythm, the harmony, or the arrangement? Whatever the reason, I am sure that this record will continue to be a timeless classic that will be enjoyed by people for generations to come.

Sincerely,

John Barry
Miss Davidson's Italian was such as has never been heard on the banks of the Po or the Arno, except perhaps at the American Express.

This week's offerings may not contain a lot of overwhelming masterpieces, but there are a few good choices, including several debuts.

The movie of the moment is the wry, funny, touching "Marriage Story," a rather unorthodox contemporary comedy/drama by Spike Jonze. "Marriage Story" stars Adam Driver and Scarlett Johansson as a married couple who are trying to figure out how to divorce in a civilized manner. It's a bit overlong, but otherwise engaging, and it's a Oscar candidate for Best Original Screenplay (Jonze) and Best Actress (Johansson).

Another Oscar candidate is "Juno," a quasi-feminist comedy written and directed by Jason Reitman ("Thank You for Smoking"). "Juno" features a strong ensemble cast, including Jennifer Garner, Jason Bateman, Kristen Wiig, and Jason Sudeikis. It's a comedy about a teenage girl who becomes pregnant, and the movie's message is one of empowerment for young women.

Another debut is "The Man Who Fell to Earth" at the Los Angeles Film Festival at the Ace Hotel. "The Man Who Fell to Earth" is a science fiction/horror movie based on the novel by Walter M. Miller Jr. It stars David Bowie as a alien who lands on Earth and becomes a wealthy businessman, only to be haunted by the memories of his home planet. The movie is directed by Nicolas Roeg ("The Man Who Fell to Earth").

Finally, "The Passover Plot" is a newly-produced documentary that explores the controversial 1974 book "The Zealots: A Secret Plot Against Israel" by Vladimir Jabotinsky. "The Passover Plot" is directed by Dan Diner and Shmuel Gilead and is a reminder of the importance of historical perspective in understanding contemporary affairs.
