Mexicali... Ruse?

Donald McDougall Jr. and James Harwood in two very different parts of the world: Donald McDougall Jr., a young San Diego lawyer, surveys the impact of OIL's well water in the southern California desert. Meanwhile, James Harwood, a young American tourist, is in Mexicali, Mexico, who, along withExpressions, Inc. and the Colorado River Basin Commission, is studying the impact of OIL's well water on the Mexicali River Basin.

While they can't verify their suspicions, Harwood and McDougall expect that OIL's family will join in, to stem the flow.

But Harwood, a former San Diego lawyer who has made peace with science, is no stranger to the world of politics. He is a member of the City Council and a former candidate for the mayor of San Diego. McDougall, on the other hand, is a member of the City Council and a former candidate for mayor of San Diego.

A Lesser Brand of Entertainment

In the City of Los Angeles, there is a growing concern about the safety of transportation systems. In recent years, there have been several accidents that have resulted in significant loss of life and property damage. The transportation department has been working on implementing new safety measures to prevent future accidents. The department has been focusing on improving the design and construction of transportation systems, as well as implementing new technologies to improve the safety of the public.

In addition to the transportation department, there are also several other organizations working to improve the safety of transportation systems. These organizations are focusing on developing new transportation systems, as well as improving the maintenance and repair of existing systems. The goal is to reduce the risk of accidents and ensure the safety of the public.

I CONTACTED...

As the new year begins, the future of the transportation system looks brighter. The recent improvements in transportation technology have made it possible to reduce the risk of accidents and ensure the safety of the public. We can expect to see many more advances in the field of transportation in the coming years.

MATTHEW ALICE

Dear Matthew Alice: With the biggest proportion in years coming in the near future, I am completely bewildered over what could, should, or would happen to the situation. It seems to me that there are a number of different approaches one could take, but first of all, let us consider the field. The field is vast, and the possibilities are endless. I believe that the most important thing is to keep an open mind and to be willing to consider all possibilities. The field is rich with potential, and there is a lot of room for growth and development. I hope that you will be able to help me in finding my way through this vast field. Thank you for your help.

To Sir With Love, a British film about a British schoolmaster whose black pupils rebelled, was said to be "in the tradition of Pan-Africanism." No comment.

Dear Matthew Alice: Recently, while doing a Mount St. Helens study, I noticed that a lot of work is being done by researchers to understand the processes that lead to the eruption. This is a very exciting and important area of research, and it is great to see the progress that is being made. Thank you for your help.

It works. It works well. It'll keep working.

CURRENT

The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie - Louis Malle's picture of a group of men and women who have gathered for a weekend retreat in the French countryside. The film is a comical examination of human nature and the absurdity of modern society. It is set in the early 1960s and features a stellar cast of French and international actors. Directed by Louis Malle. (35 mm, French, in English)

The Last Tango In Paris - Marcello Mastroianni stars as a man who returns to his native Italy after spending a year in Paris. The film explores themes of love, loss, and the search for meaning in a world that is often cruel and无情. Directed by Bernardo Bertolucci. (35 mm, Italian, in English)

What the Los Angeles Times has to say about 8 and 13

"Proposition 13 probably goes too far and could cause a lot of trouble. But the voters have approved the sale of the city's school system, including schools, because of the threat of a merger with a high property tax. And it has the radical approach of the school board, which has consistently and repeatedly backed the city's proposals and initiatives. But we understand the urge. We agree with the Times. It's not the right approach, we warn them. We see the danger to the city's economy and the need to save money. But the choice in the June 6 election is not between Proposition 8 or 13. Proposition 8, on the other hand, is a battle to resist the demands of the city's school board, but proponents of the city's initiatives and initiatives that are good for Los Angeles Times edition 2/7/79.

HOMEOWNERS

Proposition 8. Under terms of Senate Bill 81 (Rob) passage of Proposition 8 guarantees a tax of $25,000 for each property owner, regardless of the market value of the property. In the City, the biggest city in the country, it's $25,000 for each property owner. It's what we need."

Ed Miller backs up his promises with convictions.

In 1979, Ed Miller promised to overturn the perjury conviction of all kinds of cases that occurred before Miller. Today, the U.S. Justice Department officials say that San Diego has never had a tougher D.A. since the country's history.

Ed Miller became estimated to have overturned more than 100 convictions. Some of his convictions have been overturned after the appeals process.

Ed Miller is a D.A. who fights against corporate-type crime. He took on the San Diego Gas & Electric Company and won.

Ed Miller, a candidate for the District Attorney's position, is expected to shift the focus to crime prevention.

Ed Miller is expected to bring a new dimension to the office of District Attorney.

#11 Mental Blocks

By DON ROBIN

Next to the dustbin, nothing in the world could be so exhilarating as welding a good "wet" rowing. Some psychopaths have grown into no one has to tell you that we are not meant to ever fall asleep and think of what it means to exist. What if we are in the process of creating a three-dimensional object in space that is threethree, as seen from an intellectual standpoint.

Why are we to argue? All we need to do is to hear the following puzzle should not be interpreted as a 'suggestion.'

The numbered drawings in each of the following puzzles represent cubes with different designs on each of their six faces. After examining each new carefully, select one or more of the numbered cubes according to whichever of these rules applies:

1. If only one of the numbered cubes exhibits the cube on the left, regardless of the number of terms that have been made to create the cube on the left, then this is your answer.
2. If more than one of the numbered cubes, after noting, could be the one on the left, select the cube (or cubes) which is the one on the left after one turn only.
3. If more than one of the numbered cubes, after any number of notes, could be the cube on the left, but none could be the cube on the left after one turn only, then select those possible cubes as your answer.
