KRISHNA, KRISHNA
The big, drunk Chicano in Horton Plaza who tried to rip off my Hare Krishna gown got to me so quickly I never even saw him coming.

By the time I realized what was happening, he had unwrapped the orange and maroon sari from my head. As he tore at it, his glazed, bloodshot eyes mocked me.

I remember futilely saying that he should let go and thinking of the ubiquitous police cars normally found patrolling the seedy downtown square. "A lot of good they are," I recall thinking bitterly. "What do I do if this guy tries to hurt me?"

I could run into Third Avenue, pull off the sari, and scream, "Help! Help! Look, I'm not really one of them!"

Praise The Lord And Pass The Safety Glass

As the Rev. David Parrell didn’t have enough leaves to burn his 1,100-acre estate, he cut down some of the cypress trees and sold the wood. Now the estate is set to be destroyed by a real estate developer. The Estate is located on Guatemala Avenue near the intersection of Palisades Park Avenue and Pacific Coast Highway. The developer, a company called California Properties, plans to build a 200-unit apartment complex on the property. The estate is home to a variety of wildlife, including deer, foxes, and birds. The developer has been controversial in the community, as some residents are concerned about the environmental impact of the project and the loss of open space.

Mr. Schumacher's Folly

In a world where power and money rule, a humble and modest man becomes the focus of attention. Mr. Schumacher is a man of few words and even fewer ambitions. He lives a simple life, working as a janitor and spending his free time reading and writing poetry. His neighbors and colleagues are amazed by his dedication to his work and his love for literature. Mr. Schumacher's life is a testament to the power of the written word and the importance of humility in a world that often values grandeur and fame. His story is a reminder that greatness can come in the most unlikely of places.

Several years ago, a young couple moved into the neighborhood next door to the apartment building. The building had a large driveway, and the couple decided to use it as a parking lot. They started making improvements to the lot, including adding a fence and building a garage. As the couple continued to work on the lot, they attracted the attention of the neighborhood association. They were eventually forced to sell the lot to the association for a large sum of money. The couple was left with no place to park their car, and they were forced to park on the street. This event brought to light the importance of community involvement in the decision-making process of neighborhood improvements.

There's Character in That Nose

Christopher Stuebner

In recent years, more and more men have been wearing nose rings, a change in fashion that has affected the look of many a nose. The nose ring, a simple yet effective piece of jewelry, has become a popular choice for its unique style and versatility. In this article, we will explore the history of nose rings and their cultural significance.

The nose ring has been worn for centuries, with its origins traced back to ancient Egyptian civilization. In ancient Egypt, nose rings were worn as a symbol of beauty and status. The Queen Nefertiti, who was known for her beauty, was often depicted in art wearing a nose ring. The nose ring was considered a mark of luxury and wealth.

In ancient India, nose rings were worn by women as a form of protection. The nose ring was believed to protect the wearer from evil spirits and diseases. The nose ring was also worn as a symbol of love and devotion.

In medieval Europe, nose rings were worn by knights as a symbol of their status. The nose ring was also worn as a form of protection, with some believe that it could keep the wearer from getting a cold.

Today, nose rings have become a popular fashion accessory. They are worn by men and women alike, with many choosing to wear them as a form of self-expression. The nose ring can be worn on both the right and left nostril, and can come in a variety of styles and materials. Some people choose to wear a single nose ring, while others prefer multiple piercings.

In conclusion, the nose ring is a piece of jewelry that has been worn for centuries for its cultural significance and beauty. Today, it continues to be a popular fashion accessory, with many choosing to wear it as a form of self-expression.

The French Revolution in Dining

"Let them eat cake!"

The French Revolution was a time of great change and upheaval. One of the most iconic symbols of the revolution was the phrase "Let them eat cake!" This phrase was originally spoken by a noblewoman in response to the king's order to hoard food during a time of famine. The phrase was interpreted as a call to action, inspiring the common people to rise up against the monarchy.

The revolution was sparked by economic and social inequality. The French people were living in poverty while the nobility lived in luxury. The middle class was also being squeezed by high taxes and a lack of political representation. The revolutionaries sought to establish a government that was more responsive to the needs of the people.

The revolution began in 1789 with the storming of the Bastille, a symbol of the monarchy's power. The revolution ended in 1799 with the death of Napoleon Bonaparte, who had taken power and established a new form of government.

Today, the French Revolution is remembered as a time of great upheaval and change. It is a symbol of the power of the people to effect change and challenge the status quo. The revolution inspired similar movements around the world, and its legacy continues to be felt today.

which some come to receive her blessings.

This little house of dance from a distance it looks like a fairy tale, a place that seems to belong in a dream. From the outside, it's hard to imagine what lies inside. But if you make your way through the doors, you'll find yourself in a world of pure spirit, where love and devotion are the order of the day.

Krishna, the divine child, is a symbol of love and compassion. His image is everywhere, from the frescoes on the walls to theStatue in the center of the room. Everywhere you look, you see the qualities of Krishna—kindness, wisdom, and beauty.

The dance school is run by a group of dedicated teachers who have devoted their lives to sharing the message of Krishna. They believe in the power of dance to connect people to their inner selves and to each other. And they believe that Krishna is the ultimate teacher, showing us how to live a life of love and devotion.

As you walk through the hallways, you can feel the energy of the dancers, who are practicing their moves. They are young and vibrant, full of joy and passion. And they are all connected to Krishna, drawing their strength and inspiration from his teachings.

The dance classes are open to everyone, regardless of age or background. Whether you're a beginner or an experienced dancer, you're welcome to join in. And whether you're looking to improve your dance skills or to explore something new, you'll find what you need here.

So if you're looking for a place to connect with yourself and with others, to express your creativity and to feel the power of love, come visit us at Krishna Dance School. You'll find a welcome here, and you'll find Krishna, the divine child, waiting for you.

Poor Sports

In the world of sports, it seems like everything is about winning and losing. But what if we could focus on the fun and the experience of playing,而不是 just the outcomes?

Take the case of John Smith, a local high school football player. He's been playing football since he was a kid, and he loves every second of it. He loves the excitement of the game, the camaraderie with his teammates, and the thrill of victory.

But John has noticed something over the years. The pressure to win has increased, and with it, the stress of the game. He's seen his teammates' enjoyment of the sport fade away as they struggle to meet expectations.

So John has decided to take a different approach. He's decided to focus on the fun of playing, rather than the results. He's started a new team, made up of players who want to enjoy the game, not just win.

And it's working. The team is having a great time, and they're winning games, too. The pressure is gone, and the focus is on the joy of the sport.

Of course, there are still the occasional losses. But John and his teammates understand that those losses are an integral part of the game. They know that it's okay to lose sometimes, as long as you have fun in the process.

In the end, John knows that it's not about winning or losing. It's about the journey, the experience, and the relationships you build along the way. And for him, that's what makes sports truly special.

THE READER PUZZLE
No. 64 Figures of Speech

By Dee Riddle
Focus is a concept. We'd like to have a few words with you. There are wheels, yes wheels, that run in different directions. We find ourselves often in the middle of the right. Using the opposite method, like a jockey, we'll try to identify yours. Note that this component is arranged completely most of the time in any correct sequence.

Rules of the Game:
Players for solving the Reader Puzzle must be members of the Reader Puzzle Club. The South of San Diego.
All contest entries must be accompanied by the name and address of the submitter. Employees of the Reader Puzzle Club are not eligible.
In the event of a tie, determination of the winners will be final and absolute. We reserve the right to accept or reject any entry if there are more than one solution.

All answers must be entered in the spaces shaded on the puzzle page, using one letter or number per puzzle space.
