The San Diego Padres now have the best winning percentage in the National League. Tuesday evening, as good as it is, marked only the beginning of their winning streak.

The Padres, however, are not the only team in the National League that has a winning percentage above .500. The Atlanta Braves, the Philadelphia Phillies, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Milwaukee Brewers, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Chicago Cubs, and the San Francisco Giants all have winning percentages above .500.

The Padres' success is due in part to the strong pitching of the team's two starting pitchers, Steve Garvey and Steve Carlton. Garvey has a 10-4 record with an ERA of 3.23, while Carlton has a 12-3 record with an ERA of 2.88.

The Padres' hitting has also been strong, with Tony Gwynn leading the team with a .368 batting average. The team has a .291 batting average as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' defense has also been strong, with first baseman Jerry Gant leading the team with a .992 fielding percentage. The team has a .981 fielding percentage as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' pitching staff has also been strong, with left-hander Steve Carlton leading the team with a 1.93 ERA. The team has a 3.48 ERA as a whole, which is the lowest in the National League.

The Padres' offense has also been strong, with center fielder Dave Winfield leading the team with 101 hits. The team has 617 hits as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' defense has also been strong, with catcher Gary Carter leading the team with 106 assists. The team has 453 assists as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' pitching staff has also been strong, with right-hander Steve Garvey leading the team with 12 wins. The team has 17 wins as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' offense has also been strong, with first baseman Steve Garvey leading the team with 107 runs batted in. The team has 501 runs batted in as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' defense has also been strong, with second baseman Tony Gwynn leading the team with 101 errors. The team has 161 errors as a whole, which is the lowest in the National League.

The Padres' pitching staff has also been strong, with left-hander Steve Garvey leading the team with 122 strikeouts. The team has 364 strikeouts as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' offense has also been strong, with center fielder Dave Winfield leading the team with 105 doubles. The team has 319 doubles as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' defense has also been strong, with catcher Gary Carter leading the team with 103 runs scored. The team has 469 runs scored as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' pitching staff has also been strong, with right-hander Steve Garvey leading the team with 122 wins. The team has 176 wins as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' offense has also been strong, with first baseman Steve Garvey leading the team with 107 home runs. The team has 500 home runs as a whole, which is the highest in the National League.

The Padres' defense has also been strong, with center fielder Steve Carlton leading the team with 122 errors. The team has 161 errors as a whole, which is the lowest in the National League.

Matthew Alice

Dear Matthew Alice,

My friend药物和I were both thrilled with the sample crossword puzzle that came in the May 2013 issue of Madam's magazine. However, we found one clue particularly challenging:

What is the name of the company that manufactures the world's largest computer?

We know the answer is IBM, but we're looking for the actual name of the company. Is there a specific term or abbreviation we should be using to properly identify it?

We're excited to see how our puzzle-solving skills can improve with more practice. Thank you for a great issue!

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Shamu the Dolphin

BY STEPHEN HEPFNER

Shamu, the world's most famous dolphin, has been entertaining San Diego's visitors for many years. Shamu, a male bottlenose dolphin, was born in captivity and has been performing at SeaWorld since 1964. He is known for his intelligence, communicative abilities, and unique skills. Shamu's performance includes shows and interactions with trainers, and he is a popular attraction for visitors of all ages. His pipeline may be a bit of a mouthful, but Shamu's fans love him and his interactions with the audience. So if you're in San Diego and looking for a day of fun, don't miss Shamu's show at SeaWorld! His friendly smile and engaging performance are sure to leave a lasting impression on you.
ON TOP OF THE CITY

BY STEPHEN SIMPSON

It may be most accurate to say that the top two stories of the Federal Center building in downtown San Diego house a part of the city's highest-floor offices, as well as a rooftop terrace that gives views of some of the city's most notable landmarks. The building was completed in 1974 and has since become a symbol of San Diego's ongoing development.

The rooftop terrace is accessible only to tenants of the Federal Center, but it offers panoramic views of the city. Visitors can enjoy the views and take photos of the city skyline, the San Diego River, and the nearby mountains.

The Federal Center is one of the city's largest office buildings, with over 1 million square feet of office space. It is located in the heart of downtown San Diego and is easily accessible via public transportation.

For more information on the Federal Center and other top-floor offices in downtown San Diego, please visit the official website of the San Diego Office of Budget and Management Services. You can also contact the office directly at (619) 234-1234.

"The bank is in ambiance," says an office worker at the base of the 60-story building. "It's open 24 hours a day, seven days a week." The bank has a number of branch offices throughout the city, but this one is in the heart of the financial district. The interior is designed to be functional and practical, with a focus on customer service. The bank is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. Customers can access their accounts through the bank's online banking system or by using one of the many ATMs located throughout the city. The bank is committed to providing excellent customer service and a convenient banking experience for its customers.
A Chat with James

ELEANOR WIDMER

I began my career as a writer for the Daily News. It was a small newspaper in La Jolla, California, in 1960, and I had been there for only one year. I was fresh out of school and had recently married. Having worked briefly as a secretary, I was excited about the opportunity to join the staff of a local newspaper. However, I soon realized that being a reporter was not as glamorous as I had imagined. It was a tough job, and I found myself working long hours for low pay. But I loved the work, and I was determined to succeed.

One day, I was assigned to interview a local artist. I was nervous, but I was determined to do a good job. As I sat down to interview him, I noticed that he was wearing a strange hat. It was a large, round, white hat with a wide brim. I asked him about it, and he explained that it was a traditional hat worn by his people. He told me that it was an important part of their culture and that it was worn during ceremonies and festivals. I was fascinated by his story and decided to write an article about him.

I submitted the article to my editor, who approved it. I was thrilled. It was my first published piece, and I was proud of the outcome. I continued to write for the Daily News, and I soon became known as a good reporter. I covered local events, interviews with local figures, and even wrote features about local artists.

Eventually, I decided to pursue a career in journalism. I enrolled in a journalism program at a local university and worked part-time as a reporter for the Daily News. I graduated with honors and was offered a full-time position as a reporter for the San Diego Union. I was overjoyed. I had finally found my calling, and I was determined to make a success of it.

I spent many years as a reporter, covering everything from local events to national news. I interviewed countless people and wrote hundreds of articles. I never lost my passion for the work, and I continued to strive for excellence. In the end, I achieved my dream of becoming a successful journalist. And it all started with that first interview with the local artist.
Family Way

JONATHAN SEVILLE

After a survey team from ladies' Goldfinger's The Line in Winter, ending with the wargless Hair won it all. For more than 10 years, 25 years, and the hundreds of years, every society has seen a spectacular change in the faces of the family get-together at Christmas time. The constant battle to find the right clothes, the right shoes, the right makeup, the right dress, the right tie - it's all part of the family's tradition.

But that's all about to change. With the arrival of the new family, the family get-together will be a different affair. No more battles, no more stress. It's all about the enjoyment.

The family will come together in a more relaxed way. The clothes will be more comfortable, the makeup will be more natural, and the shoes will be more casual. It's all about the family's happiness.

But it's not just about the family. It's also about the children. With the arrival of the new family, the children will have more freedom to be themselves. No more battles, no more stress. It's all about the children's happiness.
