

WHEN THE USS BENNINGTON BLEW UP IN SAN DIEGO HARBOR, IT WAS THE WORST PEACE-TIME DISASTER THE NAVY HAD EVER SUFFERED.

BY MARK LINSKY

The sighting of San Diego breas a welcome event for the crew of the USS Bennington on a sunny July 19, 1905. The patrol gumboat had just completed a rough, seventeen day journey from Hawsii, and the blue-glockets, as salons were called at the turn of the centrury, were looking forward to the weekend ahread and some much needed liberty in the saloons and restaurants of the city. San Diego weekend ahread is a comprolled as a San Francisco or as exolic as Honolulus But Les Strober. San Diego and the salons are salons and set alone to the salons are salons and restaurants of the city. As chooser cost all of a nickel — with a free funch thrown in. The town itself was used to hosting the salons are saloned to the salone

Eleven Congressional Medals of Honor were issued to the sailors of the Bennington who had performed heroic acts. The loss of life aboard the gunboat was the worst that the United States Navy had ever suf-fered in peacetime, and it drew com-parisons with the fate of the battleship Mine, which held mediaded it haves the bor seven years previously. In both cases, the crews were taken unaware by events, and the explosions on both vessels were catastrophic in terms of numbers killed. At the time of the Bennington disaster, it was still widely assumed that the Maine had still widery assumed that the Stume had been struck by a Spanish mine or torpedo. In fact, both ships were lost because of in-ternal explosions. It was most probable that the Maine sank because of coal gasodorless and tasteless methane—that built up in her fuel bunkers due to high temperatures and poor ventilation and ig-nited the ammunition stowed in an adjacent ingazine. The Still Center of the Turning Worlds here is a still center of Elernity. A place where all pasts, presents and futures meet.

This intersecting point of knowledge and experience, pleasure and pala, mortality and immortality has been described and referred to in a variety of different ways by makes, prombers and learners with hower guerateroods.

Some have described it as God or Heaven. Others have referred to it as Nirvana or Tho.

In Zen it is called Zen mind or Enlightenment.

While names, descriptions and methods for reaching the still center of being vargreaty, the ultimate worth of this envarances is agreed upon by all who, have absorbe it. The experience of the still center of being brings freedom, self-control, balance and payors to, those who have attuned their lives to it.

Zen is the study of the Ten Thousand States of Mind and of Enlightenment, the still center which lies beyond the Ten Thousand States of Mind. It is a highly personal study which brings clarity and purpose into the lives of those who practice it.

Zen Buddhist thought has had a profound influence upon Chinese and Japanese history and chulter. A great deal of the current success of the Japanese corporate mind stems from the effect of centuries of Zen practice in Japan. Arrival arts, dance, boyett, the tea ceremony and many other forms of personal, affilietic and artistic expression have been given birth to by Zen mind.

Zen is a highly refined and artistic approach to the menning of life. It tin't necessary to learn Oriental customs or to speak the Japanese language to successfully practice it. All that is required is an open mand, patience, a good sense of humor and or intense desire for self-improvement.

I have written a free booklet about Zen for the "computer age" called "The Zen Expertsnoe:" In it I discuss Zen in more depth, and describe both contemporary and traditional methods I employ in teaching Zen at seminars and in private practice.

If you would like to learn more about Zen and the wonders of your own mind, call or write for this free booklet today.

Find the still center of your own being. Stury Zen.

The Reader's Holiday Gift Guide is a compendium of gift ideas The Reader's Holday Gift Guide is a compendium of gift ideas for the holday shopper—a place where readers looking for inspiration find the best that our advertisers have to offer. It is a separate, free-standing section made up entirely of advertising and set off from the rest of the paper by a color cover and handsome color designs or, every page. We do not recommend it or thousing to advertise housing, services, employment, and the like. But advertises who have semething special to offer for the holday season will find it an attractive and effective showcase.

money, the manager did, but one time I watched him count one time I watched him count over 5000 in small bills — the largest bill was a hundred. I dealt with money every day, so it didn't bother me or anything. To discourage robberies, we never kept much in the register. It was all kept in the safe, and only the manager had the combination. The most amount of cash I ever had at one time was $3000. I got a big check back from income tax and I had another thousand saved, and I another thousand saved, and took it all and put a down

On just caught lobster, shrimp and salmon. Mahi Mahi, Ono or Ahi from Hawaii. And for landlubbers, our juicy blackened tenderloin. We serve them fresh each day at the Monterey Whaling Company, a San Diego tradition.

For a working lunch or a romantic dinner, we think a fresh approach is best. That's why we prepare our entrees with simple seasonings and quick broiling over fragrant mesquite coals.

The result? Seafood and meats incredibly moist and tender, with deliciously subtle flavors. You'll also find our chowders hearty and our salads garden fresh.

Come enjoy food so good, you'll be hooked with just one bite. For reservations, call 543-9000.
