When Solana Beach became a When Solana Beach became a civi in 1986, the new governmen was given a few old fish to fry. One of the biggest problems it inherited is a sewage treatment plant that needs expensive upgrading, coupled with an unpopular ocean discharge pipe now running at peak capacity. Another headache is Eden Gardens, a neighborthood of Mexican restauration and gang violence. Car break-ins are also problem in the beach area and in problem in the beach area and in problem in the beach area and in the parking lots of large apartment complexes. Residents often blame burglaries on illegal aliens, and they complain about migrant workers camping on private property. Hispanic citizens, in turn, say they are unfairly portrayed as criminals. They also protest being stopped by the U.S. Border Patrol becau of their ethnic appearance. The city council leaves the

The city from church workers. The city council is not sitting idle, however. It is stewing its first real crisis, which has split the local activists into different camps and caused a rift among council members. No one can agree on the best course of action, so the question will be posed to the town's voters on June 7: Should

THE STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE P 0

Lomas Santa Fe Drive be renamed Solana Beach Drive? The idea was suggested last July by city councilwoman Celine Olson. Since that time, two separate citizen's committees have formed to advocate the opposing sides. There have been sides. There have been fundraising drives, letter-writing campaigns, survey-taking, and a televised community forum. The city council is divided on the issue, and two of its members have exchanged terse words on the op-ed page of the local surrounding Proposition U involves its cost to the city. The major has announced a $520.15 price tag on changing the street and freeway signs, but an opposition spokeswoman has challenged the accuracy of that figure, saying it will be higher. Also at issue is where the funds will come from. Is it appropriate to use the new county gas tax, which is earmarked for street improvements?

The bottom line in all of this is the town's image. Few people disagreed with the council's decision last summer to rename distilled the word "Pillbox" because it has drag connotations. But Lomas Santa Fe Drive is different, say the opponents of Proposition U. Changing the mane will only open 'a Pandora's box of Worms', according to one seporters of the name change point to the low cost per bouschold — only four dollars, if everybody gives. The most compelling reason has come from everybody gives. The most compelling reason has come from sympathetic city officials, who have pointed out that Lomas Santa Fe Drive is the town's only freeway exit from Interstate 5. THE INSIDE STORY

LAST WEEK AN INFLUENTIAL LAWYERS' group branded Michael Schaefer and three other candidates for a municipal court judgeship as 'not recommended' for the job. But Schaefer has a weapon that makes him eminently qualified makes him eminently qualified to win the election: a $736,100 campaign fund. Just how much is $736,000? It's $120,000 more than Roger Hedgecock spent on his mayoral campaign, and triple the cost of a well-financed city council race. Whether Schaefer wants to spend all that money in pursuit of a seat on the bench is his decision alone Whether he'll be allowed to pend it in the crucial days leading to the June 7 primary election is an issue mostly out mortgage deed, $50,000 in cash, and $15,000 in securities. It's not clear just how much of that money he has spent to date. His financial disclosure shows that Schaefer paid out a modest $5800 through mid-March, including an $1800 filing fee; $35000 for prunting and mailing; and $350 for 7200 specially made "Schaefer for specially made "Schaefer for specially made "Schaefer for Judge" fortune cookies. The second Crosby tune is "It Happens Every Day," a simple but mesmerizing ballad recorded during the Bunger Than Besterday sessions and that embodies the same brooding spirit as another of his tunes on that album, "Everybody's Been Burned." But the indisputable showpiece on Never Before is Crosby's "Lady Friend." The song was issued as a single in the sammer of 1907 (after as a single in the sammer of 1907 (after out), but after making a brief appearance near the middle of the charts it sank. from sight. it was new to rock, and Tubular Bells, thentwenty-year-old Oldfield, and a brand-new label. Virgin Records, became causes célèbres of the music world.

I thought that Oldfield's subsequent efforts, 1974's Hergest Ridge and 1975's Ommadawn, were vast improvements on the formula. But most critics disagreed, and apparently most fans' interest in Oldfield's work had been exhausted on the flukey, ballyhooed sensation of Tubular Bells, because both follow-ups fared poorly at the counter, and Oldfield went into seclusion. From 1978 through 1984, he tried, with some success, to conform his ina 1983 hit for Hall and Oates), and he didn't Astrock out again until he composed the Academy Award-winning soundtrack to the 1986 film The Killing Fields.

Islands — Oldfield's first studio project

hilands — Oldfield's first studio project since 1984's Discovery — seems a compromise between his themsaic composing and his pop song writing. Side one features a two-part orthestral suite, "Wind Chimes," that pilots through some familiar Oldfield waters. Instruments drop in and out, creating an every-shifting spatiality, wistful themse take on and then lose textural heft like waves spending themselves on a shore; quiet, burthing synthesizer passages surrender to quasi-majestic, chorola/orthestral-statements.

Side two is quite literally Oldfield's creative flip side. Listening to these five tunes, one gets the impression that for Oldfield, the act of writing songs is less a matter of thinking of writing songs is less a matter of thinking in concise terms than of stifling his developmental urges. There is a flow to "The time Has Come" and "North Point" (both song by Anita Megerlanth that suggested the song th

One conclusion to be drawn from a comparison of the two sides, and the one I'm inclined to favor, is that Oldfield is a fine essayist and not an "items" columnist. He's mastered the clongated form first presented on Tubular Bells, and his work since that landmark effort estifies to his ability to sus tain a patient listener's interest throughout fifty-minute opus. I can understand Oldfield's desire to woo record but are when the larger forms, but by chopping his prime-grade talent into stew-mean chunks, he's fighting his natural strengths. As a result, Islands is only half of a very enjoyable album.

Several things endeared us to Tary's immediately. The first was that when I looked trees and alsock whether I could have a half-order of each. The maintre of said, "I think it can be arranged." The waiters repeated, "I think you can have it," and the owner, Celeste Burgk, a former body biolist and we can do that for you." Having a half-order of two carriers is my idea of heave. Actually, Sheppard's at the Shenkon pioneered the concept, box don't receive half-order shree, but you order two gournet entirées and get on the men. It really is the equivalent of the men. It really is the equivalent of steak-and-obstare platters, except that in this case you order two gournet entirées and get protions of each. I find this excising gastronomically and was automished by the when it was not listed that way on the men. The other incident was that my escont substitution of the provident o

All meals come with huge salads, the size that you associate with a la carte salads. Celeste brought her fingertips together when we commented on the large, fresh salads. "I hate these tiny things they call salads in other restaurants," she remarked.

ginger lime butter and roasted cashews (Sh 695). The scalloops proved tender and succutient, and the lime ginger butter complemented the scalloops perfectly. This dish is certainly worth ordering. He also wanted to try Singapore shrimp in a chile-Pinco blance. However, there are small culturary details that still have to be worked out. There was too much fresh rosemary in my chicken. Fresh herbs are wonderful but tend to intensity if they are placed in the sauce too soon. Celeste rushed to bring us a sample of the Celadon, but this marinated chicken was too sally and lacked subtlety. The crust in the house favorite Jack Daniel's pie was not suf-ficiently light. These are minor complaints, ones that may not even be relevant soon. Taryn's is definitely ready for prime-time playing and with continued effort may develop into one of North County's fine range in price from $32.95 to $23.95 for top-sirion and lobster tail. Beef, fish, and acalocd dominante the menu, enhanced by California cuisine sauces. The food is fresh and tasty, the portions large, the room soothing, and the service first-rate. the most common native flowering plants in San Diego County's sage-scrub and chaparral plant communities, are in flower this month through June. Chamise, also known as greasewood, readily known as greasewood, readily sprouts from root crowns after fire. Much of the area between the Laguria Mountains and El Cajon, swept by the mammoth Laguria tio of 1970, is now covered by chamis four to eight feet high and by buckwheat two to three feet high. buckwheat two to three feet high. The stems of both plants are tipped by clusters of small, white or cream-colored flowers, fading to russet-brown by July. Near the coast, look for flat-top buckwheat, common on south-facing slopes. Here it shares space with other low-growing sage-serub plants like black sage and California sagebrush.

Keep your ears tuned to FM 104 K•JOY and you may win a trip for 4 to Walt Disney World in Florida!

To celebrate Mickey's 60th birthday, Walt Disney World, along with FM 104 K-JOY, will be giving away all-expense paid vacations for 4 to fabulous Walt Disney World in Florida, via Delta Airlines, the official airline of Walt Disney World.

With the dazzling nighttime extravaganza of IllumiNations in EPCOT Center, and the celebration of Mickey's Birthdayland in the Magic Kingdom, there's more fun, excitement and entertainment than ever before! And don't forget that there's golf, swimming, boating, blking, tennis and dancing, in addition to the many other wonderful attractions and activities you'll find here. A K-JOY will be announcing a winner a day for three weeks beginning May 16th, through June 3rd. Entry forms are available at these participating sponsors' locations: all San Diego County Lincoln-Mercury Dealers, all Celluland Phone Centers, all Bennett's Appliance Centers, and Deak International. So say tuned to K-JOY, because each weekday at 7:45 a.m., Rich Barnes will announce details on how you could be a winner. Mickey says it won't be a party without you!

ROMANTIC AFGHAN FOOD

What is Afghan food?

It is not as spicy as Indian food, more subtle than Moroccan food, and full of variety.

We use choice, succulent lamb; tender, seductive appetizers; and pulow dishes to alert your senses to the true possibilities that Afghan cuisine can offer.

Come to romantic Pawinda; it's inexpensive and infinitely more satisfying than a trip abroad.
