TRUE STORY

Kikash's speakers aren't the first I owned. Fact is, I had another high-end brand and thought they were wonderful. Those speakers were made when a friend came to live with me for a few days in my apartment. He put all his furniture in storage, but brought his KIKASH FORTES with him and hooked them up next to my speakers. I was taught for the duel and confident my speakers would win. On the very first CD, the FORTES made it clear that I was missing a lot in my system. There delivered so much more detail and articulation. So much more dynamic range. The sound was alive. There was no context. As soon as my friend moved on, I sold my speakers and bought a new pair of FORTES. I was pleasantly surprised at the price. I could have bought them to begin with and saved some money. I think FORTES are just great. No component in my system, not even my CD player is ever made much of a wind difference. Music never sounded so good to me.

Stop into Breier Sound Center and audition the Kikash Fortes. $1000/pair is all you or me.

They won’t fly. They won’t leave. But the probability of the border and Mexico losing large numbers of vehicles or trucks is growing. Drug traffickers in Mexico already are being encouraged to use such means to avoid being detected by the U.S. border patrol.

For all their anticipated dangers, however, the tactics being used by drug traffickers are also very common, according to Congressmen from both sides of the border. "They’re using these tactics to get their products into the U.S.,” said Rep. John B. Childs, R-Tex. "We’re not talking about a special group of drug traffickers. We’re talking about the same tactics being used by the same people that are using the same tactics to get their products into the U.S."

Time is on their side, according to Childs. "We’re not talking about a special group of drug traffickers. We’re talking about the same tactics being used by the same people that are using the same tactics to get their products into the U.S."

A long with the growing drug trade, the U.S. has been experiencing an increase in the number of people trying to cross the border illegally. This is partly due to the availability of vehicles and the relative ease of crossing.

On May 1, Border Patrol agents in California seized 10,000 pounds of marijuana in a single raid. The agents also seized a van filled with 2,000 pounds of cocaine. The operation was part of a larger effort to interdict drug smugglers in the area.

The agents' efforts were part of a larger strategy to stem the flow of drugs into the U.S. from Mexico. The strategy includes increased border patrol efforts, along with the use of technology and intelligence sharing to identify and deter drug smugglers.

This is not to say that the problem has been solved. The agents' efforts are ongoing, and much more needs to be done. However, the progress is encouraging, and it shows that the U.S. is beginning to take the threat of drug smuggling seriously.

The Sigmund Freud Show
Tull Today

The rock and roll corder came out in a wheelchair — a sly tie-in with the huge banner: "Oh, no! Not another 20 years of Jethro Tull!"

JOHN CONOSTROZIE

Alden Park

If their concert Sunday night at San Diego's old Civic Auditorium is anything like the parades of preceding years, San Diego should look forward to a good time. The audience is expected to number in the thousands, and the air will be filled with the sounds of "Aqualung" and "heavy metal" — a combination that is sure to please the fans of these two groups.

The show is scheduled for 8 p.m., so be sure to arrive early to avoid long lines. The gates open at 5 p.m., and a fireworks display is planned for 7 p.m.

In addition to Jethro Tull, the line-up includes several other bands that are sure to keep the crowd entertained.

TWO DANCES

The National Ballet of Canada, under the direction of Constantine Natsios, opened its 48th season with two new ballets: "La Fille Mal Gardée" and "Chorégraphie pour Marionnettes." "Chorégraphie pour Marionnettes" was created by Natsios himself, while "La Fille Mal Gardée" is a classic by Jean-Georges Noverre. The production was led by guest star Janie Taylor, who received critical acclaim for her performance in both ballets.

SAIL AMERICA

Sail America's new sailing school, located in San Diego, is offering a variety of programs for both beginners and experienced sailors. The school provides instruction on sailboat handling, basic navigation, and advanced techniques. For those interested in pursuing a career in sailing, Sail America offers certification programs that can lead to employment on sailboats around the world.

DON'T LEAVE SCHOOL

The school year is underway, and students across the country are facing the challenges of the pandemic. Teachers and administrators are working tirelessly to ensure that all students have access to quality education, regardless of their circumstances. With hybrid learning models becoming the norm, students are adapting to a new normal, balancing online classes with in-person instruction.

PRETS

The annual Pretz Festival, held in Munich, Germany, celebrates the beloved bagel with a variety of competitions and events. Participants can compete in pretzel-making contests, taste different types of pretzels, and even join in on the fun of pretzel-throwing. The festival draws visitors from around the world, including many pretzel enthusiasts and connoisseurs.

CITY EVENTS

SAN DIEGO

The San Diego Symphony will be performing a concert that showcases works by Beethoven, Mozart, and Stravinsky. The event, titled "Music for the Ages," promises to be a musical journey through the classical periods of music. Tickets are available online, and the concert is held at the San Diego Civic Theatre.

INTERESTING
"When the sun sets and the stars come out, music fills the air. My favorite place to hear it is under the stars. My favorite music is jazz. It's a timeless art form that connects people across generations. I love the way it evokes emotions and creates a sense of unity."

JOE JORDAN

BELIEVERS
IN SKEPTICISM
"I never believed in the power of music. To me, it's just a form of entertainment. But after a recent study that showed music can affect the brain in surprising ways, I've become more open to the idea. It's a fascinating field of study that I hope to explore further."

SARA MEYERS

ALL'S FAIR
"I believe in the power of music to bring people together. My non-profit, Music for All, is all about spreading joy and unity through music. I've seen firsthand how music can bridge divides and bring communities together."

LILY WILSON

MEET MONTY
"Monty is my favorite musician. His music is a true reflection of his soul. He has a unique voice and a talent for writing songs that speak to the heart. I've been following his career for years and can't wait to see him perform live."

What's the most exciting public event you've ever attended?

By Lin Johnson

Alaska Airlines

The most exciting public event I've ever attended was the premiere of "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring." I went with a group of friends to the opening night, and we were all dressed in fantasy-themed costumes. The atmosphere was electric, and the anticipation was palpable. It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience that I will never forget.

Cindy Mora

The most exciting public event I've ever attended was the Olympics. I was there to watch the opening ceremony in Beijing, and it was truly spectacular. The atmosphere was electric, and the performances were amazing. It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience that I will never forget.

Gina Stevens
