Mr. D'Agostino readily admits he is not a Manilow fin and that his attendance at the concert was the concert was a second to the concert and the concert was a concentration of the concert obvious from the opening line that he was there not to praise Barry, but to bury hard D'Agostinow it has the was there not to praise Barry, but to bury hard D'Agostinow it has fasted criticism of Barry and he fasted criticism of Barry and he fasted corricism of Barry and he fasted continued to the contribution of peans write ampliful good postes write ampliful good whatever depths are necessary to achieve that pagin? And he certainly made good on that thereof.

Mr. D. unnecessarily cruel and degrading remarks about the size and age of Barry's fins were particularly diseased. When the possible correlation could this possible correlation could this vacious stack proves is that Mr. D lacks the flossing and integrity needed to objectively snapped "acassing the audience" long enough to watch the show, he would have been pleasantly surprised by the entermous taken and creatively suddeling on singer.

I challenge anyone to find a more exciting, emotional, and fun-filled both The missis is sensational, the background imagery interaction with the audience captiviting. Mr. D's account of the show makes me wonder it he actually attended. You don't bace to see the show work to write his prodecentional bias. It would be belowed him to take not only a below to the his posterior to the barry's catter has spanned fifthen years. It would belowe him to take not of his.

Barry and his fans (regardless of their size and age) have been a vital force on the music scene for a long time. If Mr. D wants to enjoy the same longerity. I suggest that he clean up his act and learn how to write an honest, objective review. Obviously he did not receive that volume in his correspondence course in
