STRAIGHT FROM THE HIP
By Matthew Alker

Dear Matthew,

I've always thought that all U.S. Coast Guards were Claudia Weill. But you can't hear me. You're not in the room, and you don't know that I'm talking.

With love and affection,
Claudia Weill

Dear Claudia,

I'm sorry, but I can't help you with this. The Coast Guard is not a place for women, and it's not a place for me to voice my opinions on a matter that I know nothing about.

With respect,
Matthew Alker

Her family's share of the nuclear arms race could reach $20,000 before she's old enough to vote.

The Pentagon's annual budget adds up to about $200 billion, and it's estimated that the U.S. military spends about $100 billion on nuclear weapons. This means that her family's share of the nuclear arms race could reach $20,000 before she's old enough to vote.

Consider how much you've already spent.

"WE IMPORTED THE TASTE. NOT THE CALORIES."

A COPENHAGEN PRODUCTION
THE INSIDE STORY

BY PAUL MILLER

Don Wood, president of the Los Angeles County chapter, said, "We're not talking about just a few cubes of ice in our coolers, we're talking about millions of dollars worth of ice." Wood explained that the cost of ice has skyrocketed in recent months due to increased demand and limited availability.

Ice is used in various industries, including food and beverage, agriculture, and manufacturing. The price hikes have had a ripple effect on these industries, leading to higher costs for consumers and businesses alike.

Ice manufacturers are struggling to keep up with the demand, as natural gas prices have also increased. This has led to cuts in production, further exacerbating the supply shortage.

The situation has prompted some businesses to look for alternative cooling solutions. For example, some restaurants are using more refrigeration units, while others are experimenting with new ice-making technologies.

Wood urged the government to take action to address the issue. "We need regulations to ensure that the market is fair and that consumers are not being gouged," he said.

Insurance Initiatives Ballot Guide

Prop 100—Good Driver Initiative
Consumer-sponsored. Guarantees good drivers 20%-37% rate reduction. Forces insurance companies to base rates on driving record.

Prop 86—No Fault
Sponsored by insurance industry. No-guaranteed rate reduction. Non-risk drivers not held responsible under No Fault.

Prop 83—Motor Revolt
Well-organized but poorly written. Makes insurance commissioner as elected office but places no limits on insurance industry campaign contributions.

Prop 84—Limit On Your Attorney's Fees
Sponsored by insurance industry. Limits your attorney's fees but not insurance company lawyer's fees. Ralph Nader urges Californians to vote NO on Proposition 84 (see California Notes Pamphlet, 1988).

This ad has been paid for by the following health care professionals who thought you would like to know how much your rates would be decreased by Propositions 100:

Dr. and Mrs. David Gammis, D.C.
Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Goldberg, D.C.
Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Goldberg, D.C.
His mother is on NAMBLA's subscription list. She called Nicholas and said, "I just don't understand this pedophile stuff." But, says Nicholas, his mother has "always been a bit of an antisexualist and — well, she never ran naked in the rain."

When they ask that every once in a while, Nicholas always says "well, I'm not a child anymore, I'm 16, I'm a teenager. I'm a teenager who's in high school. I'm not going to go out and do stupid things just because I'm a teenager."

His family has been very supportive. His parents have always been there for him, and he feels loved and supported. His mother, in particular, has been a strong influence on him, and he feels that she has always been there for him, even when he was struggling with his sexuality.

His father is a bit more traditional, but he is also supportive of Nicholas and has always been there for him. His father has always been there for him, and he feels that he has always been there for him, even when he was struggling with his sexuality.

His friends and teachers have also been very supportive of him, and he feels that they have always been there for him, even when he was struggling with his sexuality.

In his free time, Nicholas enjoys spending time with his friends and family, and he also enjoys reading and writing. He is currently working on a novel about his experiences and he hopes to publish it someday.

In conclusion, Nicholas is a very intelligent and sensitive young man who is struggling with his sexuality. He is very supportive of his family and friends, and he hopes to find his own path in life. He is very proud of his family and friends, and he hopes to find his own path in life. He is very proud of his family and friends, and he hopes to find his own path in life.
Statistics show that after midnight something like eighty percent of everybody on the road has had something to drink.

Matthews: How drunk is 80? Hardly anybody is drinking, they go out and come down before they were really drunk.

Bills: The 80 is that you can have 20 grams of alcohol in your bloodstream and drive. And police officers are human, regulating at human, don't always agree. Let me give you an example. A guy who weighs 180 pounds and is 6 feet tall has about 10 grams of alcohol in his blood, but the police officer can see that the guy is 300 pounds and 6 feet 6 inches and go see if he's really drunk, and he says, "You're all right, you got 20 grams of alcohol in your bloodstream, you're good to go."

In this case, it's a situation where the police officer can see that the guy is actually sober, but he doesn't have the evidence to prove it.

If you're not drunk, don't worry. I generally follow that you don't have to worry about your weight and height.

The latest test is honest enough, it's designed so the officer can get a feel for whether the person is under the influence.

The calendars for those drunk drivers!

It's something like eighty percent of the cases down there in trial setting.

After the other after the other.

Humorous amounts of cases.

Billy works both ways. If you're a good attorney you want to produce a person that you can identity with the other people. The guy sees the benefits of coming in with the other people.

The doctors trap is that all the doctors are trapped in the lab.

It's called decompensation. The guy is a front for the police.

In an Orbison Mood

BY JOHN D'AGOSTINO

Local moviegoer Bob Judge as he tells this about Roy Orbison, whom he recently heard about the movie, "Blue Bayou". Judge said, "I really enjoyed the movie. It was exciting to see Roy in action."

Judging by the look on his face, it seems that Judge was not disappointed. Orbison's character in the movie was played by actor John Travolta. Travolta, who has been nominated for an Academy Award for his role, is known for his impressive singing and acting abilities. Judge said, "Travolta did a great job."

The movie is set in the 1960s, a time when Orbison was at the peak of his career. Judge said, "I enjoyed seeing Orbison's music come to life on the screen. It was a nice change to see something different."

Overall, Judge said, "I would recommend the movie to anyone who's a fan of Roy Orbison. It's a great tribute to a great musician."

As one who compassionately repairs, "We are not satisfied, but we are not happy."
May 2004, the feeling that and searching for the 'right' words, is not an easy task. The words "right", "wrong", "good", or "bad" are not easily defined in a world where the lines are often blurred. It is in these moments of uncertainty and ambiguity that we seek guidance and wisdom.

"The word 'perspective' is one you hear mentioned a lot by therapists: it's not easy to keep one's life and attitude in balance."

"LOVINGLY" the eyes of others. It is not only the feeling that is important, but the act of giving love in return. The act of compassion is not only shown in actions, but also in words. When we choose to speak with empathy and understanding, we are able to connect with others on a deeper level.

1000 Airplanes
ON THE ROOF

A science-fiction musical drama realized by Philip Glass, David Henry Hwang, and Julian Beck

1000 Airplanes is the story of a Manhattanite who is transported to an alien ship by spacemen.

"Sifis invented a brilliant three-dimensional dream-scape that uses holographic projections in place of sets to alter the show's physical and mental terrain... Operatic design may never again be the same."

THE NEW YORKER, August, 1976

STAGE NOTES

Follow Your Dreams with the Century Schools.
Attention Diesel Owners:
A letter from one of our clients:

"From a lunacy to an epiphany" in one easy step at "GF1."

We recently replaced our 1975 FORD diesel engine with a new "GF1" fuel system. Our average fuel economy in highway driving increased from 15.5 to 24.5 miles per gallon. We're now able to travel longer distances without stopping. The "GF1" provided a noticeable improvement in performance and reliability. We highly recommend it to anyone considering a fuel system upgrade."
