into the house on Coral Reef, where the repairs were nearing completion.

A curious thing happened after Dan's departure, something Betty consistently glossed over in her version of the events. She began taking her children and depositing them on Dan's doorstep. "It was a classic case of abandonment," says one observer, who is intrinately familiar with the chain of events. When I asked Betty

"Our relationship was what it took in the old way. I had all the skills he needed at home. He needed me to give him the legitimacy and normalcy of a wife who could entertain and have the kids and be a respectable family. And I needed him to bring home the bacon so that I could have all the kids and the car and the trips and the house. And it worked toward school and friends changed? Is your child withdrawing from family activities? Do you feel that someone other than you or your spouse is in control of the family?

These are some of the questions parents ask themselves when their child gets in trouble with drugs and/or alcohol. You can ignore it or hope the problems disappear, but they rarely do; or you can get help.

When an out-of-control child takes control of the family, something needs to be done. The REACH PROGRAM is a good place to start.

It may be as simple as outpatient therapy or require more intensive inpatient treatment. Maybe it is just normal adolescent behavior. To learn more, it starts with a phone call and a free assessment. From there we can explore the alternatives together.

Santa Salutes the Fashion Valley "Mallasaurus" Long ago before man roamed the earth and shopping malls were invented, there lived the loveable inquisitive and oh-so-acquisitive "Mallasaurus." While Dinosaurs were standing in mud nibbling on ferns and Pterodactyl circled above, the busy "Mallasaurus" was shopping. Always enticed by new shopping adventures, the "Mallasaurus" migrated to beautiful Fashion Valley. Now, eons later, on the very same ground the "Mallasaurus" shopped, there exists Fashion Valley Shopping Center. In memory of the first shoppers in Fashion Valley, a free, plush, miniature "Mallasaurus" will be given to the first 2500 children to visit Santa in his new house. Visit Fashion Valley during the holidays and remember the cry of the "Mallasaurus" . . . "When you live in San Diego and you shop in Fashion Valley, You have it all!" FashionValley

Help make this "A Magic Christmas" for 500 orphaned, homeless and abused children. Attend the Rep's opening night formance of A CHRISTMAS CAROL. on Thursday, November 30 and bring an unwrapped gift for a child age 7-13. Following the show, join us in a toæst to the holidays with music, food and merriment right in the Lyceum lobby.

Through the spirit of "A Magic Christmas," the Rep has arranged to invite less fortunate children to attend a matinee performance of the Dickens classic free of charge. On December 16, the cast of A CHRISTMAS CAROL will present your gift to one of these special youngsters.

In recent years, automotive sound systems have increased in complexity, sophistication and price. Equalization, multi-amplification, digital discs, advanced noise reduction, and monitor-quality speakers have resulted in systems capable of wide dynamic range and high volume levels. Yet rure unscale purity in the mobile environment has largely been ignored. Until now. Soundstream amplifiers, digital crossovers, tuner/decks and cassetter/receivers produce the cleanest, smoothest, most detailed and open sound available. And now for a limited time Precision offers TRE! installation on all SOUNDSTREAM products guideline the state of the products guideline and products guidelines described the state of the products guidelines and the products guidelines described the products guidelin
