You are merely tolerated. They do not need you.

Just This Once

BY JONATHAN SAVILLE

South Coast Rep. in Costa Mesa is presenting its world premiere of "Just This Once" by Richard Farber. The play is a little gem and a real treat. If you like your plays with a bit of edge, you'll enjoy "Just This Once." It's a story of how two people find themselves in a situation that's beyond their control.

In the play, Richard (played by John Farber) and Paula (played by Paula Becker) are two people who are thrust into a situation that they can't control. Richard is a lawyer who is being sued for malpractice by his client, and Paula is a part-time nurse who is being sued for negligence by her patient. They are both in a situation that they can't control, and they are forced to work together to handle the legal issues.

How Bad Can It Get?

By Duncan Shepherd

Bad news, and, well, no news, to no particular order.

The Guardian, with a horror story about the vanished of Jonnie Harman's, a former house music hero once featured in Beautiful, whose body was found last week. The house music scene is now a shadow of its former self, with many of its brightest stars moving on to other things.

The Guardian

Friedman, shot by shot, is rarely anywhere on or around a discernable target.

Orwell in a room with no mirrors.

It's not easy to convince someone giving to leaflets in the street. Nathan Friedman, visibly tired and looking down, should be difficult.

Willard's a moody world ad about the world, wasn't, possibly... A few thoughts, a few feelings, a few memories.

Quarter Notes

by Jonathan Saville

Tokyo String Quartet

Their unique blend of classical and contemporary music has contributed to their rising star in the music world. Their first album, Serenade, was released last year and has been widely praised for its innovative approach to string quartets. The band's second album, Elegy, is set to be released next month and is already creating anticipation among fans.

The sound of their instruments seemed to come from a distance by low-flying mountain air.

Curb That Acid Tongue

In reference to your article "The New Ducks" (3/22/83), I must protest. It seems to me that the author implies a curbing of our freedom of speech. People should not be－nor are they－ restricted in what they say. It is a fact that most people do not like the way some ducks talk. They should be able to express their feelings about this without being inhibited. It is not my intention to start a debate, but I believe that this issue has been overlooked. I urge you to consider the implications of your article and to uphold the principles of free expression.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Eskile Eyed

Dear Editor: I am writing in reference to your recent article on the "Eskile Eyes" (3/29/83). I found the information provided to be quite misleading. It is not true that the "Eskile Eyes" are a myth and have never been observed. There is concrete evidence that these eyes actually exist. In the past, many scientists have conducted experiments to determine the truth behind the "Eskile Eyes." These experiments have shown that the eyes are real and not just an illusion.

I encourage you to re-examine your article and provide accurate information to your readers.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

I Call It Hope

I would like to express my appreciation to the author of the article "I Call It Hope" (3/29/83). The article provides valuable insights into the human condition and the ways in which we can cultivate hope in our daily lives. As the author states, "Hope is like a light that guides us through the darkness of our lives. It gives us hope, even in the most difficult circumstances."

I urge you to continue to publish articles that offer hope and inspiration to your readers.

Yours sincerely,

Back To Boulevard

In regards to the article "An Escort to Boulevard" (3/29/83), I would like to share my thoughts. The author’s description of the Boulevard neighborhood does not capture its true essence. Boulevard is a vibrant and dynamic community that is rich in history and culture. It is important to recognize the positive aspects of this neighborhood and work together to preserve its unique character.

Yours truly,

Women Like You And Me

I am writing in response to your article "Women Like You And Me" (3/29/83). I would like to share my experience as a woman in a city where gender equality is not yet fully achieved. It is important to recognize the challenges faced by women in this context and work towards creating a more inclusive society.

Yours sincerely,

Do you care about what you eat?

The Future of Food is All About Natural Ingredients.

Do you care about what you eat? Do you want to know where your food comes from? Do you want to support local farmers and communities? If so, then you need to start thinking about the future of food.

The future of food is all about natural ingredients. This means using ingredients that are grown locally, and that have not been treated with chemicals or pesticides.

What is your concept of beauty?

KATHY PERL
Leather Coach/Elle Magazine

Kids need to look their best because they are always being watched. They want to be beautiful and they want to be sexy. People are more than just their outward appearance. They are more than just their looks. They are their personality, their intelligence, their character, their sense of humor, their capacity for joy. I believe that beauty is the most powerful weapon we have to communicate with the world. It is the way we express who we are and what we value. It is the way we make others feel loved and accepted. Beauty is the way we can touch the hearts of others and make them feel cherished and valued. Beauty is the way we can make a difference in the world.

KATHY BARK
Laundry/Transylvania Student

Body is a very important part of beauty. It is the way we express ourselves and our personality. It is the way we communicate with others. It is the way we make others feel. It is the way we express our inner self.

JESSICA FOSTER
Lee Jones Management

Skin is important to beauty. It is the way we express ourselves and our personality. It is the way we communicate with others. It is the way we make others feel. It is the way we express our inner self.

DARYL NASHHOUSE

The body is a very important part of beauty. It is the way we express ourselves and our personality. It is the way we communicate with others. It is the way we make others feel. It is the way we express our inner self.

Tom Kott
Tom Kott

Something that makes beauty unique is that it is subjective. It is different for everyone. Beauty is not just about physical appearance. It is about how you feel and how you express yourself. It is about how you treat others. It is about how you make others feel. Beauty is not just about what you look like. It is about who you are and how you express yourself.
