PICTURE STORY By the San Diego Historical Society

Some members of the Troupers pose with a Western Dairy Products truck and milk cans, perhaps a publicity shot for an upcoming show. The performers were local San Diegans who periodically put on vaudeville-style entertainments at the Savoy Theater, which was located on the northwest corner of Third Avenue an C Street, downtown. The woman on the right holding the Troupers' sign is Ruby, Kisman Hays, who came to San Diego in 1925 after a career as an actress and entertainer on riverboats and tent shows. She appeared regularly at the Savoy as a member of their stock company and from 1946 to 1961 was a featured player in musicals with the Startight. Her busband Harry was also an actor and was the Startight's stage manager. This undated photograph was probably taken in the late 1920s. SERILLAN PROJECT SHOW A STATE OF THE ANALYSIS AND A STATE
