surprised at the quality of a concert. But it is an equally grea pleasure to be sure in advance of what your experience is going to be, and then in fact to hear exactly what you had expected. That is the case with the That is the case with the intermittent series of baroque concerts conducted at St. James-by-the-Sea by Nelson Huber, the La Jolla church's music director. Huber has proved himself to know this music inside and out. He has this music inside and out. He has a sure sense of barroque style, learned but not pectantic. He does not use "ancient" instruments, but he knows how to evoke sounds from his instrumentalists that have much of the brilliance, pungency, and lucidity of an authentic barroque orchestra. He values the brisk semons and openative. baroque orchestra. He vanues the brisk tempos and generally energetic approach that modern musicology has fostered in baroque performance (none of the sodden, lush romanticism that used to be favored), but his innate sodden, lush romanticism that used to be favored), but his innate musicianship and good sense enable him to avoid the breathless excesses of some of the more fanntic baroque conductors of our day. He does indeed succeed in making his listeners feel that they

FOR A BETTER VIEW, YOU'D HAVE TO BE

This breathtaking OMNI film shows you the Earth from space. A view only a few lucky astronauts have enjoyed - until now. You'll see how our environment is dramatically changing. And how those changes will affect our future. Call 238-1168 for showtimes. Then stop by Balboa Park today, or tonight. You've never seen anything like it. #### PRESIDENT BILL

By Wm 1. Brown @1990

The first family was A pleased to have the first parents-in-lawdrive down from Ohio for the second first child's first birthday party. We seldom got to see them because of the arduous drive. Under the Department of Transportation's program to demolish the interstate highways, special attention had been paid to the Washington-Ohio corridor, on my orders. The first in-laws came from a tradition of early marriages and hig families. So it was hard on them, and us, when Mary waited until her mid-30s to have children, their only grandchildren so far.
