STRAIGHT FROM THE HIP
By Matthew Allee

Dear Matthew Allee,

If you make a phone call on a street and you come back, you find your neighbors have a lot of questions. You find they want to talk about what you did and what you saw.

Your neighbors ask if you got to see what you did, and you say you did, but they want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

You tell them you saw a lot, but they want to know if you saw anything.

They want to know if you saw anything.

THE Wind Did It

Story by Bernard Cooper
Illustration by Charlie Powell

Burning at the center of our discourse like the sun is the subject we never miss, the subject that dwarfs and overshadows all the others: the state of our health. We carefully monitor every ache and cramp and itch. We talk about our blocked sinuses, fallen arches, ingrown hairs.
Wind

"My father carried an umbrella on the days he worked in the sun. He told the doctors, 'I don't go out under the sun without it.'" His mother would tell him to put it away. "Don't be such a baby," she'd say. "It's just a little sun." He'd laugh and say, "Yes, Mom, but it's like an umbrella for the sun." He was always so funny.

For years, on the advice of the nutritionist Adele Davis, she pried my father and me with gallons of milk for healthy marrow. My mother was inconsolable when he heard that Adele Davis had died from bone cancer.

"She don't drink. She don't smoke. She don't do anything bad. She just eats healthy," my father would say. "And she's still alive!"

"No, Dad," I'd say, "she eats healthy but she still gets cancer."

"You don't drink, you don't smoke, you don't do anything bad, and you still get cancer," my mother would say. "That's why I don't eat healthy."

"My father used to say, 'If you don't eat healthy, you're not going to live long. If you eat healthy, you're going to live long.'"

"My father used to say, 'If you don't eat healthy, you're not going to live long. If you eat healthy, you're going to live long.'"

"My father used to say, 'If you don't eat healthy, you're not going to live long. If you eat healthy, you're going to live long.'"

"My father used to say, 'If you don't eat healthy, you're not going to live long. If you eat healthy, you're going to live long.'"

I thought we were done. We had just been through a difficult time, but we were finally on the other side. We had talked about what had happened, and I thought we had come to terms with it. But I was wrong. Now I realize that we were just pretending. We were still holding on to the hope that we could make it work.

I miss you more than words can say. I wish I could turn back time and make things right. But I can't. All I can do is keep moving forward, hoping that someday we might be able to forgive each other and let go of the past.

I love you, I really do. I just wish things could be different.

"I had a lot of people who I was riding with. I don't know if I ever got a lot of them. The only ones I know of are the ones who were riding with me. We used to ride a lot and have fun together. We would ride around in a big car and have a lot of fun. We would have a lot of fun together."

Local chiropractor offers $220 worth of his services for only $25 to anyone who needs help but has never been to a chiropractor before (or hasn't been in a long time)

Dear Friend,

If you have a friend or family member who needs help but has never been to a chiropractor before (or hasn't been in a long time), I would like to help. I will offer a $220 worth of my services for only $25 to anyone who needs help but has never been to a chiropractor before (or hasn't been in a long time).

For one day only (Monday, January 21), $25.00 will get you all the services I normally charge new patients $220.00 for.

For one day only, I will offer a $220 worth of my services for only $25.00 to anyone who needs help but has never been to a chiropractor before (or hasn't been in a long time). This offer is limited to new patients who have never been to a chiropractor before (or haven't been in a long time). The offer is available for one day only, Monday, January 21.

I am a chiropractor with over 20 years of experience. I am committed to providing the best possible care for my patients. I believe in the power of natural healing and the importance of good posture and alignment. I will work with you to develop a care plan that meets your needs and helps you feel better. I will provide you with education and guidance on how to maintain good posture and alignment, and help you achieve your health goals.

I am located at 123 Main Street, Suite 100, Anytown, USA. My office hours are Monday through Friday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. I accept cash, credit cards, and insurance. I have a convenient location and easy parking. I look forward to helping you on your journey to better health.

Sincerely,

Dr. Smith

Take Poison

BY ELEANOR WIDMER

"Sometimes I don't know if I'm ready," singer Kelly Smith says. "I've always been a natural singer, but the rest of my voice..."

But Smith and others in Take Poison have been singing together for over a decade, and their sound is anything but natural. Their music is a mix of rock and roll, with influences from 50s and 60s rock. Despite the changes in their sound, the band remains true to their roots, and their music continues to be celebrated by fans around the world.

I tried screaming and standing for awhile, but that's all.

QUARTER NOTES

By Jonathan X*

AARON COPLAND

A tired looking Aaron Copland sits on his Gurney. He looks at the copy of the newspaper that he is holding. His name is written in bold letters on the cover. He is wearing a suit and tie. His glasses are perched on his nose. His hair is thinning. He is looking at the camera with a serious expression. His mouth is slightly open. His eyes are looking at the camera. His hands are resting on the newspaper. He is seated on a bench. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a park with trees.

Your Sniveling Driver

A woman is driving a car on a city street. She is wearing a suit and tie. She is looking at the camera with a serious expression. Her mouth is slightly open. Her hands are resting on the steering wheel. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a city with buildings and cars.

Insiu S Their Intelligence

A man is driving a car on a city street. He is wearing a suit and tie. He is looking at the camera with a serious expression. His mouth is slightly open. His hands are resting on the steering wheel. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a city with buildings and cars.

What Mark Will Miss

Mark is sitting in a restaurant. He is wearing a suit and tie. He is looking at the camera with a serious expression. His mouth is slightly open. His hands are resting on the table. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a restaurant with tables and chairs.

Native To This Turtle Island Continents

Native is standing on a beach. He is wearing a suit and tie. He is looking at the camera with a serious expression. His mouth is slightly open. His hands are resting on his hips. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a beach with waves and sand.

Get Esmol UK Off Your Back

A man is standing in a store. He is wearing a suit and tie. He is looking at the camera with a serious expression. His mouth is slightly open. His hands are resting on his pockets. The day is bright and sunny. The background is a store with shelves and products.

COLOR GRAYS GONE!

The usual effervescence between graphics and humans has receded somewhat. The color, black, has acquired a life of its own. It has become a character in the play of the picture, a force that is not only silent but also all too often confused with sound. The color black has been elevated to the status of a major player in the show, and its presence is felt in every frame. In it, the viewer finds a sense of security, a place to rest the eye. The color black is not just a background, it is a part of the scene, a character in its own right.

ARMS FORCES

American "Pan-American" chartered for U.S. Navy, J. T. 1955. The ship's long history of service to the United States Navy is well documented, and her role in the defense of freedom is clear. The ship is a symbol of American military strength and a testament to the nation's commitment to peace.

THE CASE FOR MINERALS

In the expansive lobby of the California Academy of Sciences, a large, dramatic display showcases the wonders of mineralogy. Visitors walk through an array of minerals, each one more striking than the last. The display is a testament to the diversity of minerals found throughout the world, and a reminder of their importance in our daily lives.

BARD OF THE HIGHLANDS

If we were to name one person who epitomizes the Scottish experience, it might be William Wordsworth. His poetic voice carries the spirit of the Scottish Highlands, where he found inspiration in the landscapes and people he encountered. His work continues to inspire generations, as it resonates with the beauty and spirit of Scotland.
