DO YOU MAKE THESE EMBARRASSING MISTAKES WHEN YOU CUSS IN MEXICAN?

BY C.T. GATHER

Carcin is a small town in the Mexican state of Durango. It is a town of about 20,000 people, known for its beautiful architecture and colonial-style buildings. The town square is a popular gathering place, with people coming together to socialize and enjoy the warm Mexican weather. One of the attractions of Carcin is its traditional Mexican cuisine, which is famous for its use of fresh ingredients and bold flavors. Local dishes include tlayudas, tacos, and pozole, all of which are popular with both tourists and locals. In addition to its cultural attractions, Carcin is also known for its beautiful natural scenery, with mountains and rivers providing a picturesque backdrop for the town. Overall, Carcin is a charming and vibrant place to visit, with something for everyone to enjoy.

NEW CIVIC THREAT: LITTER ON-A-STICK

BY PAUL GANT

The city of San Diego is facing a new threat as it seeks to enhance its appearance for the upcoming 1986 World's Fair. The problem is litter, which has become a major eyesore in public places. In an effort to combat the problem, the city has acquired a new piece of litter control equipment, known as the Litter on-a-Stick. The Litter on-a-Stick is a long-handled reacher, designed to pick up litter from hard-to-reach places. The city has begun to deploy the Litter on-a-Stick in parks and other public areas, with plans to expand its use to other locations as well. The city hopes that the Litter on-a-Stick will help to reduce litter on the streets and in public places, improving the city's appearance for visitors and residents alike.

MEXICAN AIRPORT FOR 100 PERCENT MEXICANS

BY JACOBY H. SANDERSON

The Mexican government has announced plans to build a new airport exclusively for Mexican citizens. The airport, known as the Mexican Air Terminal, will be located on what is currently an empty field on the outskirts of Mexico City. The airport is expected to be operational by the end of 1987, and it will be the first airport in the world to be built specifically for Mexican citizens. The airport will be equipped with state-of-the-art facilities, including customs and immigration services, and will serve as a hub for domestic flights within Mexico. The Mexican government hopes that the airport will boost the country's economy, create jobs, and improve the lives of Mexican citizens.

Greg Gehrich and Mary Anne MacLellan

DATING RODGE read the guide to singles. Professional, 36, nonmahomes, several children, great bachelor shape, San Diego.
Mary Anne: Initially, a friend and I decided to try Phone Matches as a joke...

Greg: I wanted someone with a sense of humor.
Mary Anne: The night after my birthday, I responded to Greg’s ad. I had met a few people through Phone Matches. I had decided that, “This is the last one, I’m not going to respond to any more.”

Greg: I received ten responses. I grounded myself I would try to meet everyone I could.

Mary Anne: Originally, I was responding to ad by the way their voices sounded. Because of my work, I tune into voices.

Greg: On the message she left me, she let me know she was a speech pathologist.

Mary Anne: Some voices were matching up with the people. I decided to listen more to what they said, instead of how they said it. I liked the way Greg sounded and I liked what he said. I called him.

Mary Anne: I called him.

Greg: We’re doing this interview to inspire people that it can happen.

Mary Anne: We kid each other that we’re going to pass this ad out to everyone at our wedding.

San Clemente

At one site, a child was buried with a fox skull on either side of its head; at another, a man and a woman were buried side by side with a fox skull between their pelvises.

Society reports that the foxes were left there by the Spanish gardener Antonio Garcia, who stabbed them here in 1814. Although these foxes were not found on the island of Campeche, Mexico, they were found on the island of Baja California. It was reported that the bodies of humans and animals were sometimes buried with fox skulls, and that this practice was widespread among the Native American tribes of the region.

Surveying the land, one can see that the Fox’sFacino, also known as the Guadalupe Island, was visited by the Spanish explorer Bartolome de las Casas in 1525. He is said to have captured the foxes on this island, as well as the nearby islands of San Miguel and San Diego. The foxes were said to be so plentiful that they could be hunted for their fur.

The island of San Clemente is the largest of the three islands, and it is located just off the coast of southern California. It is home to a variety of plants and animals, and it is a popular destination for birdwatchers and naturalists.

The island has been protected since 1967, and it is managed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The island is open to the public, and it is a popular destination for birdwatchers and naturalists.
San Clemente

The charm and magic of any island is the feeling of living outside, or beyond, the routine of the mainland. San Clemente definitely has that feeling.

San Clemente is one of the most picturesque islands in the world. It's a popular destination for surfers, with some of the best waves in the world. The island is known for its beautiful beaches, crystal-clear waters, and mild climate. San Clemente is a great place to relax and enjoy the outdoors.

"If intervals be the food of love, play on" is a quote from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." In the context of theater and performance, it suggests that the pauses and breaks in the action of a play can be just as important as the performance itself.
