SAN DIEGANS
PLAN THEIR FUNERALS

Edited by Sur Greenberg

cople should think about their funerals oarly on, "says Ken Hayes, vice president of El Camino Memorial Park and Mortuaries." "You should think about dujng as soon as you're able to reason with the rest of your life. Americans don't realize they're going to die; they don't want to face death. Europeans, they talk about death."

San Diegons talk about doath too, alboit reluctantly. We recently asked local folks how they foresare their funerals, or how they would like

GET OFF YOUR BUTT AND GET WHAT YOU WANT RIGHT NOW!

I'm sick and tired of seeing sooo many people sooo frustrated in their lives.

I'm tired of talking to people who want something for nothing. If you are willing to invest a little of your time and even less of your money to get yourself back on track then read on!! Otherwise, just keep lipping through this paper and spacing out just wondering when LUCK is going to bail you out.

YOU MUST DO SOMETHING TO TAKE CHARGE OF YOUR LIFE AND THE BEST TIME IS NOW!!

out of shape, broke and lonely. If you are any of these things, I was worse. The people that would associate with me only did because I owed them money. That was then. Now, at 29, I am in better physical shape than I have ever been in my life, I drive the exact car I want to drive, I live in a 3000-square-foot bachelor pad and I am sharing my time with the most beautiful woman in the world. And that's only a part of it.

JOB SEARCH FING JOBS FAST WITH 6R6 YOUR AGENDA FOR SUCCESS

Because it is extremely expensive to advertise job positions in the daily newspaper, many employers and employment agencies list only a small fraction of their available positions. The San Diego Reader Job Finders Hotline is different. It's a place where San Diego and Northern California employers can list all of their jobs. And it's a convenient place for you to apply for them.

PICTURE STORY

By the San Diego Historical Society

The San Diego precursor to Disney's Splash Mountain? It's February 22, 1889, and Governor Robert Waterman and assorted local swells and dignitaries are ready to christen the just-completed San Diego Flume with a flaboat excursion. (None of them seem thilled at the prospect, do they?) Water in post-Civil War San Diego was then, as now, a precious commodity; toost 5.25 a bucket, and San Diegons were tring of the foul tasting ermanations from local wells. A fitume from the damp Cuyamaca mountains to the east seemed a natural solution. The $13.3 million redwood structure snaked 36 miles (or 45 miles, depending upon which source you consult) from a diversion dam to the Eucalyptar Reservoir in the Grossmont area, passing through 8 tunnels and crossing over 315 trestles. Local Native Americans were hired as "flume walkers," removing branches, debris and assorted drowned animals from the flume trough. Sections of the abandoned structure can still be seen today, in the hills east of El Cajon.
