The Museum of Photographic Arts, the Gallery East, and the Reader would like to thank the staff at the Museum of Photographic Arts for their support in this year's contest. A total of 116 entries were received from 237 entrants. All entries were judged by Henry Kostman, publisher of Photo Arts, who selected 39 for exhibition. Of these, one was in color, and 18 in black and white. The non-printing entries were presented in the issue of the Reader. The opening reception and awards ceremony will take place at the Gallery East, 724 Broadway, on November 22. 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The complete exhibition will be on view at the Gallery East from November 22 through December 21. Special thanks to Dennis Micali, Kostman Labs, Photo Factory, Clark Photo, Seacoast Photo, Image House, Chroma Photo, and Photo Calcutta.

Winning photographs continue on page 75.

PEOPLE OF COURAGE Two men are on a nuclear disarmament campaign against the U.S. government. They plan to take a train full of weapons from Texas to Washington, D.C., to protest nuclear disarmament. The men, who are part of the organization 'Peace Train,' say they will protest the train's passage and demand its surrender to the U.S. government. The men say they believe in non-violence and hope to raise awareness about the dangers of nuclear weapons.

MAGGIE WANGENSTEIN Maggie Wangenstein is a writer in San Diego who has been covering the local news for over 20 years. She recently published a book titled 'San Diego News: A History,' which explores the city's news media from its early days to the present. Wangenstein says she hopes to inspire younger journalists with her work and encourage them to continue covering the city's unique culture and history.

HAUNTED HOSPICE

BY THE BEACH

The Johnsons are the owners of the historic Johnson Hotel in San Diego. The hotel was built in 1920 and has been in operation since then. It has hosted many notable figures over the years, including presidents and movie stars. The Johnsons say they have heard strange noises and felt a presence in the hotel, and they believe it is haunted.

Some scientists report that cloud seeding can even decrease rainfall.

TULANNA COPS DON'T GET NO RESPECT

BY LANN CRABA

The Tulann police department is struggling to attract and retain officers. The department has had a high turnover rate, with many officers leaving due to low pay and stressful working conditions. The city council is considering increasing police salaries and improving working conditions to address these issues.

ADVENTURES FROM A SMALL FLORIDA MISSION: DAY'S BRAVEST LITTLE SURF PEGE

This is a story about a surfer who learned to surf in a small mission in Florida. The surfer, who goes by the name 'Peanut,' was inspired by a group of experienced surfers who would gather every day to catch waves. Peanut says he learned to surf by watching and imitating these surfers, and he quickly became one of the best in the group. The story is accompanied by photographs of Peanut surfing and a map of the mission's surfing spots.

DUTCHMEN DON'T UNDERSTAND WHAT THEY ARE DOING

BY MAURICE FLAHERTY

To make cuts in a social service program, it's essential to understand the program's purpose and the needs of its clients. However, some Dutchmen who cut the program's budget are not familiar with the program's goals or how it serves its clients. This lack of knowledge can lead to ineffective budget cuts and undermine the program's effectiveness.

A negative trend Chemistry officials say the number of arrests for drug-related crimes is on the rise. This is due to the growing popularity of synthetic drugs among teenagers. The officials say they are working to educate young people about the dangers of synthetic drugs and are increasing their efforts to enforce drug laws.

WHERE DOES MOTHER SHUSHANCE GO WHEN THEY DIE? City officials say they are planning to purchase a new location for Mother Shushance, a historic women's shelter in San Diego. The current location is too small and unable to accommodate the increasing number of women seeking shelter. The new location will be larger and better equipped to meet the needs of women in need of shelter.

PENATE PRATT

For generations, Pena-Leon activists have been fighting for the recognition of their Ancestral Land Rights. They are demanding the government recognize their land as Ancestral, which would give them legal protection and control over their cultural and spiritual practices. The activists say they are facing opposition from the government and local authorities, who want to claim the land for development and tourism.

SAN DIEGO JOE

San Diego Joe is a surfing legend who has been riding waves since he was a child. He has won numerous competitions and is known for his unique style and ability to ride waves in challenging conditions. San Diego Joe says he is retiring from surfing, but he promises to continue mentoring young surfers and sharing his knowledge of the sport.

Brown's Beer is a popular San Diego brewery known for its craft beers. The brewery has won numerous awards for its beers and has expanded its production capacity to meet the growing demand. Brown's Beer is committed to using sustainable practices and sourcing ingredients from local farmers and suppliers.
STRAIGHT FROM THE HIP
By Matthew Alice

Dear Matt,

Just finished off the last of my leftovers: Baked Salmon — oh, it was good. Helped my wife with the dinner crowd and then we both hit the hifi. What a difference the right gear can make. Thanks for the hint on that.

Love the new living room, too. The furniture is a great compliment to the walls. Really love the way the ceiling light plays off the granite. I can't wait to see the rest of the house.

Best,

Nate

Proud Homeowner

Dear Nate,

I'm not sure what you're talking about. What you call "the right gear" is what I call a "backup." It's not something you should rely on. It's just a backup in case your primary system goes down.

Love,

Matt

Baker's Paradise

Losing weight is a never-ending battle for some people. But for others, it's a game of inches. Baking can be a great way to lose weight if you're careful about what you put in the oven. And it can be a lot of fun too!

Commercial sugar is not your enemy. If you're going to eat sugar, eat it. But try to avoid white sugar as much as possible. It's not healthy and can lead to weight gain. Instead, try using honey or maple syrup in your baking.

If You Can Sell Shoes, You Can Sell Anything

By Judith Moore, with photos by Paul Stolbock

Selling shoes, for all the world seems a simple task. It's a retail business, after all, and the business of selling shoes has been around as long as people have walked on two feet. But when you look behind the scenes, you discover that selling shoes is a complex and challenging task. It requires a combination of skills, from customer service to product knowledge to marketing and salesmanship. And it's not just about making a sale; it's about building relationships and creating loyalty. It's about understanding the needs and wants of your customers and meeting them with the perfect pair of shoes. It's about having the right attitude and the right approach. It's about being a problem-solver and a listener. It's about having a sense of humor and being able to navigate the challenges of the retail world. It's about being knowledgeable and passionate about your product. It's about having a strong work ethic and a positive attitude. It's about being able to work under pressure and in a fast-paced environment. It's about being flexible and adaptable. It's about being a good communicator and a good listener. It's about being able to think on your feet and make quick decisions. It's about being able to handle rejection and overcome obstacles. It's about being able to stay calm and focused under pressure. It's about being able to think critically and creatively. It's about being able to take advantage of the opportunities that come your way. It's about being able to stay on top of the latest trends and innovations. It's about being able to manage your time effectively. It's about being able to think strategically and plan for the future. It's about being able to handle stress and pressure. It's about being able to stay positive and focused. It's about being able to adapt and change. It's about being able to stay committed and dedicated. It's about being able to think outside the box. It's about being able to be resilient and persevere. It's about being able to learn from your mistakes and improve. It's about being able to be a leader and inspire others. It's about being able to make a difference and contribute to the success of your business. It's about being able to be a good team player and work effectively with others. It's about being able to be a good citizen and contribute to your community. It's about being able to be a good role model and set a positive example for others. It's about being able to be a good thinker and problem-solver. It's about being able to be a good listener and communicator. It's about being able to be a good learner and learner. Success Stories:

Michele and Joseph McCluskey

I'M AN ATTRACTIVE, tall, slender country girl. I'm not deductive or descriptive. Honestly it's all 5 ft. 8. Who you want to be. Preferably yourself.

Michele: This was my second ad in the Reader. I don't think I was specific enough with the first one.

Joe: I want a regular reader of the Reader. Matches ads. I just happened to pick up the section one day.

Michele: He was the only one who said that honesty was important to him, too.

Joe: Neither of us like fake people who put on a front.

Michele: He lived in Chula Vista and I lived in Vista. It was a month before we could get together, but we called on the phone every day.

Joe: My friends kept saying, "You're taking her to the brunch on your first date?!? But that's what we agreed to do."".

Michele: I took the train down and he picked me up at San Diego. Then we went to P.B. We bought lunch and changed the champagne.

Joe: We asked and laughed the whole night.

Michele: It took another month to get together again. We had conflicting schedules. And geographically, we were incompatible.

Joe: But we worked it out! And our relationship grew stronger.

Michele: We were married October 19, 1990.

Joe: We still have different schedules, I usually work the night shift at the Vista Inn. Michele works mornings as a hotel manager. Michele works mornings at the San Marcos KFC as shift supervisor. Our general manager, Carol, makes sure we get one day off together.

Michele: We take turns caring for our baby. His name is Erik.

Joe: With other women, I always felt like I had to perform. Like they wanted things out of me. You talk to them on the phone for five minutes and they're just sitting on the other end, not saying anything. But with Michele, I feel secure. She's very open and I feel free to talk.

Michele: I was looking for someone who liked simple things, and I got him!

CURRENT MOVIES

“BREATHTAKING!”
TWO ENTHUSIASTIC THUMBS UP. “BEAUTY AND THE BEAST” is Disney’s crowning achievement and probably the greatest animated film of all time. I liked it more than “THE LITTLE MERMAID.” This is up there with “PINOCCHIO,” even “SNOW WHITE.” Sophisticated and funny, romantic and wacky, Disney’s “Beauty and the Beast” is an instant classic. It’s thrilling, and you don’t have to bring a kid along to have fun.

ON A SCALE OF 1 TO 10, IT’S AN 11!”

“Rollicking and endearing!”
“Delightful! Loads of fun for the entire family!”

LOOK OUT PARTNERS, THERE’S A NEW MOUSE IN TOWN!

“ ***
UNQUESTIONABLY THIS YEAR’S MOST ORIGINAL COMEDY!”

“EXCELLENT! In all respects!”
