PROTECT YOUR CAR AGAINST "CODE GRABBING" ELECTRONIC THIEVERY!

A Cote-Grabber is a device made of parts available at any electronics shop. With it, anyone can simply "gash" off the air the digital code transmitted by your car alarm remote, record it and retransmit it, disamming your alarm minutes after you've let your vehicle. But not CLIFFORD'S INTELLIGUARD SERIES Alarms.

Their "Anti-Cod-Grabbing" technology randomly changes the digital code each and every time you use your remote, thus a thief's code-grabber will NEVER deactivate it!

lessed by unique geography and Mediterranean climate, San Diego Mediterranean climate, San En opportunities for recreational sailors.
These opportunities are best exploited by small-craft sailors, who can wear nothing but shorts year-round while plying waters inaccessible to mariners onboard larger craft. Among the numerous sailboat classes under 20 feet in length, one class excels in a combined course of maneuvering, planing, surfing beaching, shoal navigation, and island exploration. At the opposite end of the nautical spectrum from fast multihulis carbon fiber trifoilers, ULDBs (ultralight displacement boats), International America's Cup Class contenders, and undeniably bad-ass Formula One racers, this 14-foot craft is a modest fiberglass monohull known as the Laser

Unlike many of its larger cou-Laser is everywhere; it can be found on the grounds or docks of any local marina. It is the world's most popular sail-training craft, and hull production is rapidly approaching the 200,000 mark. No wonder the class is involved worldwide in over 1000 racing events The ultimate victory still lies ahead: when the Laser becomes an Olympic class in 1996, this humble design will finally achieve the recognition and Status it deserves.

Designed by Bruce Kirby in 1969, the prototype Laser was originally named

"The Weekender," since it was intended for recreational use by working-class blokes unable to afford larger craft, high maintenance costs, slip fees, etc. After slight modification and a name change the Laser appeared on the market and began to receive the attention of sailors and distributors. Kirby and his colleagues never looked back, and the gradual rise of the Laser is just another aspect of nautical history. Why did this little boat become so popular, and why is it the ideal choice for local sailing conditions? Low cost, low maintenance, and relative ease of handling are the primary reasons for the Laser's success in San Diego. Although the Laser is designed for the solo sailor. it can also accommodate a thin date. and thus an aura of romance contributes to the boat's appeal. Aspiring sailboat racers are drawn by an established class, while destitute ntellectuals are attracted by the

A new Laser can be purchased for $2750 at the Boat Shop on Canon Street This cost can be reduced by scanning the classified sections of local newspapers or by checking the billboards at marina clubhouses fro Chula Vista to Oceanside, Somewhere i San Diego County, there's sure to be a Laser for sale. Good secondhand boats with trailers usually run between $1000 and $1500. Some boats without trailers go for as little as $350.

Once the initial purchase is made, the low-maintenance phase kicks in. No boat is easier to maintain than the Laser. Fiberglass hull and aluminum spars keep labor to a minimum. Even the most careful Laser sailor will spend ore time rigging and derigging th boat than pulling tiresome maintenance (including the periodic weeklong overhaul), which is generally reserved for wither or early spring), a rather pleasantomsequence of small owners of the properties of the p

Seafaring types who can appreciate such characteristics usually stick with the program and become hard-core Laser sailors. These are neither racers nor clubhouse kooks: they are men and women who relate to the natural aspects

NORTH COUNTY

LA Execution, No. 11 November between Treatment and Treatm

Spring is a time for renewal. To start fresh. And to eliminate as many worries as possible so you can enjoy the summer that's ahead. One great way to get a fresh start this spring and renew your commitment to good health is to get a mammogram.*

From now until June 30, UCSD Healthcare Network is presenting an unprecedented springtime offer of screening mammography for the low price of $50 - a considerable savings over what you'd normally pay. And what you'll receive for your money is priceless ... the peace of mind that comes with safeguarding your health.

All you need to do is call any of our 8 countywide locations for an appointment. The procedure will be performed by one of our mammography certified technologists, interpreted by a board-certified radiologist and the results will be reported to your personal physician. If you don't have a doctor, we'll be happy to assist you in finding one.

We've even made it easy to give a mammogram to a woman you care about. One of our gift certificates would be a very meaningful expression of love for Mother's Day. Or

Do it now. Just call any of our UCSD Healthcare Network locations listed below. And buy a little peace of mind. For yourself or

At each of the screening locations, we will accept cash, check, credit card or gift certificate as payment at the time of your mammogram, and we'll provide you with the paperwork you need to bill your insurance. Screening mammography is available to women who have no symptoms of breast disease, no implants or prostheses and no personal history of breast cancer.
