Seven Inches Deep
A comment on your cover story 'God's Din' (March 9):
I have a suggestion for Mr.
Sche, Mr. Stickles. They're looking for markets for cut raunuculus, and they mentioned that one problem is that the stems are such that the stems are such that the stems are such that they don't go well with other flowers in an arrangement. I think that a massed bunch of ramuculus by themselves commetery was is about 7 inches deep, set in a sucket in the ground, so you need your bonquet to be about 21 inches high to look about 21 inche high to look does thind. I wish the article had told what time of year they self hem.

"The border is rife with wildlife trade problems," affirms Ginette Hemley, director of the international widdlife policy at the World Widdlife Fund (WWF), based in Wash-ington, D.C., who was con-sulted by GAO in preparation for their report. Hentley says the problems are getting worse since NAFTA opened the trade floodgates. In a constant game of hide-and-seek to provide America with the rarity du jour, smugglers come across with doped-up parrots slung inside women's bras, the birds' eggs crammed in the hollows of hair-curlers. Endangered snakes enter the country rolled up in rugs or sewn into coat sleeves or even

Wildlife Border agents — most come with not only training in law enforcement but, according to Phocas, master's degress or higher in biology-related subjects — have to not only know which are endangered antimals under U.S. law, but the laws of the countries of origin. Some rare corals, for in-stance, are allowed to be ex-ported from Indonesia, but not from the Philippines. "And they all come in via Mexico." says Hemle, "It's the entrepor-for wildlife, worldwide."

So if the problem is be-coming so huge, why isn't Fish and Wildlife Services getting fords that the Border Patrol and feds that the Border Patrol and customs are getting — under prodding from both Governor Wilson and President Clinton? "Wws is an orphan agency," says Hemley, "part of the De-partment of the Interior, which by definition doesn't like think-ing outside national borders."

But it's also internal: Fws was conceived of not as a law enforcement agency, but as a biological research agency, re-sponsible for protecting wildlife and its habitats. It has 488 refuges — 91 million acres of national Wildlife Refuge Sys-tem to look after. Its employ-ces have traditionally been old-banded ducks and issued li-censes.

There's evidence that the more, during the 70s, to turn to the control of the con-highly trained Fin-style special agents, never carried the bear of FWS with it. While total staffing at PWS increased 78 percent from 1977 to 1990, the number of special agents dropped 9 percent — as their caseload grew tenfold FWS. 1992 budget was around 51 bil-1992 budget was around 51 bil-1992 budget was around 51 bil-1992 budget was around 55 bil-1992 budget was aro from the division of law en-forcement got $31.5 million of that, just as its war with smug-glers was heating up. And just as Congress was passing more conservation laws for them to enforce, such as the '92 Wild Larwin says that inflation is responsible for two-thirds of the increase. Other factors, he says, include the MYDB's unexpected purchase of expensive espected purchase of expensive pieces of property for its right-of-ways, which officials thought would be donated to the project. MTDB also had to pay for the cost of channeling the San Diego River for flood control.

So who's pushing this project? Some point to the businesses alongside the proposed trolley route. Many of San Diego's most powerful lobby-ing forces are located in Mis-sion Valley. Just after Old Town, as the trolley heads east for Mission Valley, it will pass a proposed residential development called Riverwalk, slated to be built by Chevron Land & Developme Company. Next the trolle stops at Fashion Valley, and near the central offices of the Union-Tribune. Next stop: Haz-

We 're just trying to take the opportunity that's presented to us and do something with it, you know."

"You guys know a lot of strikers, right? Any problems?" Pete admitted he'd gotten indirect threats. "So-and-so said that if you play, this is going to happen, things like that. Tell those transport who crosses is going to get there ligh broken. I know who it came from and all, but I don't care. They're going the control of the strike the control of saying.

Pete Roberts admitted he'd gotten indirect threats. "Tell Roberts anyone who crosses is going to get their leg broken.' I know who it came from and all, but I don't care."

'Look, this is the reality of the situation, this is what we've had to do to get where we re at and what we've got to do to keep it. They re trying to legitimize the situation."

"If they were honest about what they were doing." Rich contended, "I would be with them. But when they portray themselves to the public the way that they do, if I were one of them. I would go rell them, don't ask the minor leaguess for solidaris. The minute you go out and ask them is the day I'm of with you. She knows she can sleep at night, and now all of a sudken it's paid off for her, while other people who're not so honest have fallen by the wayside. So you've got some guys here who 'we worked hard and paid their dues and are good guys. Great guys. I know that nobody at this table's a drug addict. I know that everybody at this table has donated time to the community. There are a lot of big leaguers, they may have a lot of moticy, but that doesn't mean they're going to be my friend. I'm not going to britte them over. It can't to be people would going to the minor leagues more and more. Minor leagues attendance is way up, even before the strike. Maybe it's because the minor leagues are putting more into the game. It could be they have their hearts in the game more than the big leaguers do.

years ago there was another group of people playing it. And part of the beauty of baseball is the comparisons over the years, that player, this player, between that team and this team. I don't think it's fair for them to say it's our game; we're going to take our ball and go home until we get what we want.

"As a fan, nothing's ever happened in baseball to make me not like the game. But this is starting to do it. I'm not to sure that when this in over, that I'm still going to be a fan. I'm ten the I'm bath to sit out them I'm either be betterning to do it. I'm not to sure that I'm bath to sit out them? I'm either be listening at a group in the properties of the starting to do it. I'm not to sure that I'm be i'm to sit out the I'm either be listening to a group. But now I'm so fed up and frustrated with the people who have control of fit, I don't know i'll can go sit at a game and enopy it the way I used to.

who have control of it, I don't know it I can go start a game among it in two party in the way; a used it.

And I'm hopping that there are a lot of fam who feel the ame way! do, because now, with replacements, you'r getting a whole new group of goys in there. Guys who are fungery pipely, eager to play, want to play. And are making a million of offers and they want to make two making a million of offers and they want to make two one. We're talking about guys who are doing olay, who are ninling their rest payment and feeding their kids, but this would open a door. Maybe you could pay their kids, but this would open a door. Maybe you could pay off your bills and start over, and maybe you could get your kids the nice pair of shoes they want. We're talking making money on a simple level, mine in my lie. In getting a little discouraged with the game and the players, and I'm one of the dischards, before, you could have a many problems as you want, and I was still giving to be 4 in. It's discouraging to me to find oneyed sharing I'm will a few first play the problems as you want, and I was still giving to be 4 in. It's discouraging to me to find oneyed sharing I'm will a a fan. It's discouraging to me to find myself asking if I'm still a fan anymore.

I have qualens about playing, for a few simple exacus.

One, I believe Cal Riphen, I, is one of the two good gosys in the game, and I'd paid to the game, and I'd paid to the game, and I'd paid to game who want to play, but they red that, which I'd hat to see. I have qualins because I know there are good people in the game who want to play, but they re showing that logally to the union because they think they have to. If eel bad for those gosys. If eel bad that if julay, they're going to sascuate my name with bring a rich, being goedy, and all those bad things, and I'm newer going to the green, and all those bad things, and I'm newer going to the green, I'm like you.

I'm a bullplayer who lowes to play. I saw an opportunity to play, and that's what I did.

The bottom line is, it's an opportunity, and I'm going to do whatever I can to take advantage of it. I's been my dream forever to play by lengue baseball. I artered playing ball when I was xis. I probably started dreaming about in when I was fix to know people might say. You didn't Jay by le segue basebal, won played epikeement baseball. But my fandly and friends, who have the time I've put into playing baseball, are going solve to the property of the proper nexty. You know what I doesn't matter, you got where you wanted to be. How many people can say that they've reached their dream?.

We have been supported this summer, and the money-would help 'It the ball to finish chool and germ; serve started. But the other opportunity is the chance to do something I've wanted to do my whole life. Maybe it's not quite the situation I wanted as to it, but it's all the opportunity to play in a bigs in the situation I wanted as to it. But it's wanted to do my whole life. Maybe of the situation I wanted as to it, but it's all the opportunity to play in a bigs in life, the more chance you have to being a failure. And I want to go into coaching, so this can only help, working with the best in life, the more chance you have be their gat failure. And I want to go into coaching, so this can only help, working with the best players. Benefitting from years caches and playing with the best players. Benefitting from years and the common of the c game. And they can feel more on the level with the ballplayers. Hey, there's Rich, There's Pete, I was working with that guy, Some people will go who wouldn't otherwise, just to support the replacement players because they're fed up with the big-money players and the tunion.

"Last year, opening day for the Padres, maybe there were a comple of players who'd never set foot in Jack Murphy Stadium before. How do you think they felt when they first walked out of the cluthouse, when the people first put their eyes on them? That feeling of Wost This year, it could be you it going to have 32 gors walk out there and go Wost The stadium is going to be dectric, into because of that energy. Was last year's opening day

"I feel bad that if I play, they're going to associate my name with being a jerk, being greedy, and all those bad things, and I'm never going to get a chance to sit down and talk to them one on one and say, 'I'm not greedy, I'm like you. I'm a ballplayer who loves to play. I saw an opportunity to play and that's what I did.'" like that? So are we cheating the fans with replacement players? No. I mean, maybe they don't get to see the superstar hit the home run that day. But it'll be good baseball, the exact same game, home run that day. But if the good baseball, the exact same game, but you're lust not going to see it done by Tony Gwynn.

"Two years ago, we were playing in the adult league, Greg and I and Issander and Danny were there. I said, You know, with the staff we're got, we could go down to lack Murphy Stadium right now and pitch on that team."

Pete said, "Imagine if this thing goes all year with us. It could happen. The Padres are taking us semi-seriously. I mean, ome of the other clubs aren't taking the teplacements seriously, knyone who shows up, give them a contract, give them a R: You have pierced ears.

M: I'm talking about ear druiss, Richard.
The whole point is Cart timagine why anyone, what occasion would someone choose to play this must?

this music?
R: Well, what about writing this music? He wrote it after almost dying of a heart attack.
M: Oh, no wonder it sounds like that. Like he was very upset.

R: Who knows if he was upset? Maybe this

R: Who knows it he was upset! Maybe this was his affirmation of life.

M: This was not positive, this doesn't...but I could see him writing, it would get your heart going again. You're ying deed and you hear this kind of musis, and your heart stars, like a closet, like one of those things where they say, "Clear," But 1'd rather get my heart moving with even rock and roll. Not heavy metal. Well maybe heavy metal.

R: You've got to be kidding.
R: Kidding about what?
M: Now let me ask you'a question, do people

Isten to...

R: You're always saying "listen" as opposed to why it was written — what is he trying to express to listeners? I mean Michael Bolton has

M: Okay, fine, you can create anything you wanna create, but people don't have to wanna be the audience for it. Yes — there is something, there's pure expression in this — yes. A lot of R: Don't you ever try to sing? Don't you sound quite a bit like this?

M: Well when I do. ha, I don't impose it on others.

R. You've often imposed it on me. But the question is what is it — as something sung — that you object to so strongly?

M: Well, okay, when I hear a baby crying my first impulse is usually to go and try to make that baby stop crying.

R: Like stab the baby?

M: No, like maybe hold the baby, do something nice for the baby. If the baby still won't stop crying. I try to turn it over to someone else who can find out what's wrong with the baby,

R: This doesn't sound anything like a baby!
M: Well, it's got primitive sound, it's an obvious cry for help. There's something very primal, first-level about it, I mean it's certainly about the creator and northe receiver of the art. To the extent that this music reminds you of me, that's fine. Who says the art we create is the

SUITE FOR PIANO, THREE WIND AND THREE STRINGED INSTRUMENTS, OP. 29 M: I don't like it at all. If I were doing my food research, having nothing to do with this, if I'm just in the room with it, it would distract me, R: You can't get lost in this?

M: No, I'm fighting this kind of music!

R: Then by lost, I mean you could very sistly get lost in this — lose your bearings, hatever — you mean music you can fall asleep

M: Or music that gives me a feeling of well-being. Like sometimes l'll just have music on, classical music at that, and it makes it seem that everything is right with the world, and I like

R: For one thing, it's foreground, it's music

R: You didn't like the string trio.
M: I don't like screechy strings, this isn't screechy. But I'll tell you something, this is definitely movie music. I could definitely see it

R: Like Gone with the Wind? R: Like Gone with the Wind?

M: Well, in some sort of...okay, I can tell you exactly what I could see this in. This could be a suspense movie where some character is going into, he's looking through some papers, some things, he's not a detective, he's looking for something really important.

R: "Looking for important things" music?
M: Ha-ha.

MOSES UND ARON M: You know, opera's very tricky. If you decide you wanna like an opera, or opera in general, it's an act of will, because there's so much going on that is not, like you don't understand the language. people are communicating in these voices that are not real but are representative of emotional states, it's poetry, but it's not penertable, and so a person has to say up from: "I am affected by this. I like this. I go into this world without question." And I guess on that basis one could accept this as fine. I don't fully accept it, however.

PIANO CONCERTO, OP. 42
M. This is very nice, it's gos my invoicit kinds of sound—ping, ping—but it's also got other interactions the model—mixed in a long to the interactions the model—mixed in the ping and the interaction of the mixed in the ping and the colorogarging on, a foregoined and background kind of feeling, and the undermeath of it feels a lot in orderocomplex than the top. A SURVIVOR FROM WARSAW, OP. 46 M: The sound feels totally invasive. This is worse than any of the others. There couldn't be any reason to put this on any CD player. Maybe if I had neighbors I didn't like who were annoying me with then music, I'd put this on very loud — and

I'd add to it with my own animal sounds.
R: What if I tell you this is Holocaust music, his tribute to, the words of a survivor from a concentration camp.

M: Well, I'm sure his heart was in the right place. But it's too hard to listen to.

R: What, you want the Schindler's List

M: It doesn't feel to me like this has any more depth to it than Schindler's List. I mean he's a better musician, a better artist, better composer — everything is "better." But I don't know if anything he's expressing is any more effective, y'know in its arrow to the target. Schindler's List, manipulative or not, would make me cry. This just makes me

R: Isn't that the object? You want people to remember a horrible event, you want then to cry — get it over with — or cringe? M: To tell you the truth, you want them to

to be your allies, you don't send them to concentration camps— this puts the listener in the camp and they can't escape. R: But there a little more, un, accuracy this way—y know emotional versimilitude? M: Maybe there is, but I'm not interested in it. My interest is to protect myself—from the sound. Before it makes me even

CARL RUGGLES, Sun-Treader

M: I'm shocked! What a surprise. You would think it would be too modern. Do you think it sounds like Schoenberg! R: It sounds like a lot of things, he listened to a lot of old m six when he wrote it — 40-30 years old. Most of everything he ever did is derivative of one thing or another. Do you like the piece!

M: Yeah.

R: Did you like it before you knew it was Zappa?

M: It's not that I like it better knowing it's Frank Zappa, but maybe I like Frank Zappa better knowing he used Schoenberg—it just gives him a little more substance. But more of these pieces would I listen to on my own. What If I tell you this is Sokrasuet mesic, his tribute to,

CHAMBER STAPHONY NO. 2, OP. 30
M. Again, this seems like "see music"— that's just a personal category with me. Because this part we're listening to now, if it sin't be see, well it could be—calm, green—you know this part doesn't have anything to do with the sea. I don't know, fortunately or unfortunately, but this could be in a movie where the girl is just getting on with her life, she's just wandering from room to room hrouse his early some.

M: Well, there are no telltale signs one way or the other. It's actually very lovely, it's not at all assaulting. But I couldn't rule it out, because maybe you're tricking me. DIE GLUCKLICHE HAND, OP. 18
W. Offhand, only if there's no tricks, offhand I'd say this is Schoenberg. It has that push-pull. All these contrary, un, sounds that could be from different parts of, different parts of the body, different parts of the world, different parts of a stage. ANTHONY BRAXTON, Composition 107
M: I don't think this is Schoenberg, because there are too many spaces, there are elements of Schoenberg but too much sillence. I hate it anyway.

EDGAR VARESE, Integrales
M: You know what this sounds like, for some reason? Rimsky-Korsakov. But it also sounds more modern than Schoenberg.

FRANK ZAPPA. None of the Above

FRANK ZAPPA, None of the Above
M: I think this is Schoenberg, it has some selltale signs, like the way the violin went like a sad string down and then it went into another instrument, kind of jarring in al' at once. Like real pulses of emotion and then something sels jumping in the way.
R; Well, actually it's by Frank Zappa, And the lovely one was menberg.

M: I should've known it was a trick.

R: So how do you feel to learn it's Zappa?

I'm feeling sneaky now...let's do it again — this time with all five pieces by Schoenberg.

CHAMBER SYMPHONY NO. 2, OP. 38

DIE GLUCKLICHE HAND, OP. 18

M: Fine background music, it doesn't offend me one way or the other. But it's too nice to be Schoenberg, although that other one was nice too. You wouldn't trick me that way twice.

VON HEUTE AUF MORGEN, OP. 32 M: It could be. He wrote operas, it's an opera, it sounds awful. But if it wasn't it wouldn't surprise me either.

DREI VOLKSLIEDER, OP. 49
M: This is very nice, but then I like choruses. I don't know if he wrote choruses, but this doesn't sound anything like him. It's very good-natured.
R: So which would you guess was Schoenberg's?
M: I'll pick the opera. The other opera sounded just like it.

R: Well, actually, he wrote them all. How do you feel about

M: Well, it could very well be — except for maybe the chorus.

THEATRE

She Loves Me

Find out how mystery and love cross paths (via the personals!) in the Lamb's Players Theatre production of She Loves Me, a musical comedy that is the company's first in their new Coronado theatre. The evening of island merriment begins at 5:30 with a Happy Hour at Mexican Village Restaurant, a Coronado institution celebrating its 50th birthday this year! The restaurant will serve plenty of delicious Mexican food favorites and you'll have ample time to meet San Diego's best singles and write an ad. At 7:00, we'll head for the theatre for the 7:30 show. The happy hour is $5, but admission is free for everyone who purchases a ticket to the play and shows it at the entrance to Mexican Village. Purchase discounted tickets by calling the theatre at 437-0600 and mentioning Reader Phone Matches".

Free parking is available at a public lot near Mexican Village. Theatre parking is available for a nominal fee at the Bank of America parking structure on B Ave. Remember, the trip over the bridge is fire for carnools, so bring a friend and Free parking is available at a public lot near bridge is free for carpools, so bring a friend and use the far-right lane!

- A 42-car train en route to Corpus Christi derailed near the Benavides High School on Friday. No one was seriously injured by the accident, but two ladies in a nearby home were treated after falling down riving to get away from the mishap. The two swomen reportedly received minor injuries after they can from their home learing a possible explosion.

-San Diego city officials hope that a low bid for fire hydrants will allow them to add to their firefighting capabilities. The city had allowed $210,000 for this phase of the project and received a low bid of $141,852.

•The county's jobless rate rose over two points in January to 13.9 percent. Duval County continues to lead the Coastal Bend region in unemployment.

-Not everyone is ready for a ban on tobacco and related products that began March 1 throughout the 100,000-inmate Texas prison system. Residents at the Glossbenner Unit in San Diego, showever, had no problem adjusting to the new rule. "We started out as a nonsmoking facility," said Glossbrenner warden Madeline Oritz. The San Diego unit is a substance-abuse treatment facility and
