Then, in 1980, Klag was convicted of forging a subpoena in connection with his divorce case against his first wife, a felony. In a 1984 letter seeking reduction of the charge to a misdemeanor, Klag wrote to the judge, "My wife had deto the lidge, Ny wife had de-serted me for a period of five years. Carter, who says she hired Alvarado in late 1974 and let her go in the early 1990s, never knew the maid had been married. "I knew she didn't have a busband because she supported her whole family in Guadalajara, her nephews and nieces. She was a hard worker. The City of San Diego was required to spend billions of dollars to upgrade their wastewater treatment system to meet Environmental Protection Agency standards. However, alert city employees were able to document the effectiveness of the current treatment process, allowing the EPA to consider waiving the upgrade requirement. Now, billions of dollars that would have been levied for additional sewage treatment will remain in the rate payers' pockets and the city's economy. We applaud these workers for their cost-saving efforts.

show that an unmarried woman named Marta A. Klag, along with two unmarried men, purchased a piece of property in Norwalk for $130,000 in January 1994. Only one thing seems cer-tain: Betty Wilson isn't talking.

In many ways, Betty Wilson is quintessentially La Jollan.
She did not originally have money, but through her marriage to Pete, she acquired a certain kind of power. According to a story in the San Diego Union, written shortly after Wilson became mayor in 1971, Betty was keenly aware of the fact the was "first lady" of San Diego. (To take this one step further, Ted was a long-nosed Democrat. Scholars have liberalism encoded in The Cat in the Hat.)

Yet Morgan's loyalty to Ted survived this crucial test.

The power lines and riches reconcile the rest.

For Ted, the multimillionaire, would leave his widow Audrey A fortune that makes politics irrelevant and tawdro

And still the truth eludes us as to how much Morgan knew Of Ted's Jerusalem award of "Honorary Jew."

How did Morgan square all this? The Trickster? Ted's Holy Land prize? (To Nixon a judaized Democrat would hardly have been a surprise!)

Then, listing left and lefter, Ted turned his bookish bent To taking up the cudgels for earth's environment.

His pen decried pollution and smog and weapons races. The Lorax and The Butter Battle once might have brought disgraces

But now the winds had shifted, the right-wing Copley dead. La Jolla needed liberals like a hole in the head.

By then even Herb Klein was Ted's good friend, Herb Klein of I'm-Nixon's-I-al fame. ("Hey!" you say, "isn't Klein a Jew's name?" Could be. But what's in a name?)

This story's not religious. It's how conviction mellows When politics and power and dough make strange bedfellows.

Ann Charters, early one morning from her home in Storrs, said, "I became interested in Krouca because I was fortunate enough to be an undergraduate at UC-Berkeley from 1933 until I graduated in 1957."

Charters as but did not met Kerouse at a poetry reading in March 1956, in San Francisco. She was in love at the time with San Charters, a man them married to his first wist. Marc, and that was a problem, to me at least. I was determined not to commit adultery. I had actually lost my virginity, quite will indight, thinking the man was going to marry me. and then he didn't. I was trying not to Dreak any more rules.

"My commante, ma nat raisor at Cal, fixed me up with a blind date, Peter Orlovsky, I, of course, didn't know Orlovsky was involved with Allem Cortage. of pleasurable humor that Oliphant has given us along with the political ideas and the uncomicous gratifications. Killing, disguised by wit, is an often reposted theme in these cartoons. One of the most wit-ily condensed is the picture of an apprehensive firmmy Carte-tensed in driving equipment as desired in the picture of an expectation of the picture of an property of the picture of an expectation of the picture of the cratic rival Teddy Kennedy, pressumably toward Chap-pressumably toward Chappresumably toward Chap-paquidick. But when clever satire is permitting us to expe-rience taboo impulses, it is also irresistibly drawn toward that irresistibly drawn toward that other greet area of the forbid-den: sex. Given the weird Puritanical nature of the Amer-ican psyche, Oliphant, whose cartoons are syndicated in some 500 newspapers around the country, can permit himself more license in the covert expression of patricidal urges than in allusions to sexuality. MEN SEEKING WOMEN

Phone Matches Success Stories: Mary and Will Phillips

ATTRACTIVE, TALL, warm-hearted, female professional, 47, spiritually oriented, seeking caring, mellow, responsible male, prefer over 5°10° and norismoker. For fun, walks, movies, reading, dinners, camping.

Will: I didn't want a walk-on-the-beach lady — I wanted a camper There's a difference between loving the outdoors and just visiting it. And Mary's ad was the only one that said she liked camping. To me, it implied simplicity and non-materialism. Which in Mary's case, turned out to be true.

Mary: This was the first ad I placed. I tried to be clear about what I was looking for, and to describe myself succinctly. I intentionally put in my age because I didn't want anyone to imagine that I could have more children.

Will: Both of us already have children. Mary described her daughters in her recorded message, and I liked that. It was important to me to have a relationship where our families could fit together.

Mary: I still remember the message Will left. His voice was upbeat but comfortable. Instead of focusing on what he look like, he talked about his job and his daughters.

Will: The first time we met was at Quiig's, in Ocean Beach. We had some wine and talked for a couple of hours. It was a very revealing conversation.

Mary: Will was far and away the most interesting first date I had.

Will: After that, we talked on the phone every day but had trouble getting together again. I'm a management consultant and I travel a lot.

Mary: I'm a nurse and was working nights at the time. It took us ten days. But by then, it was cinched, I definitely had the feeling that "this is the kind of person I've been wanting to meet."

Will: We started living together a year after we met. I suggested that we get married a couple of times, but Mary was more besitant.

Mary: When I first placed the ad, I was just looking for some men to socialize with. Now I think that maybe I did want a partner but didn't want to admit it to myself.

Will: We just celebrated our third anniversary in Baja, at the same place where we had our honeymoon. That was the camping trip where it rained to 24 hours and everything started floating away — including the tent. It was a test, and we survived it.

Mary: We designed our wedding bands to have a mountain range, a desert, and an ocean on them. Different sides turn up at different times. It reminds me of the ebb and flow of a relationship.

Will: We get angry and we fight, but there seems to be an unbreakable connection between us that we never attack or jeopardize.

Mary: I've encouraged some friends and neighbors to try Phone Matches". I think we've proven that you don't have to be young and extraordinary to meet someone.

will: In this fractured, mobile society, we no longer have a thoughtful aunt who's going to introduce us to someone. I see Phone Matches' as a replacement for a lack of community. It's one of the few technological advances that really works.

Cantiago Arguello, circa mid-1840s.

San Diego in 1845 by then-Mexican governor Figueroa. Prior to his appointment,

San Diego was a former presidial pueblo (civilian settlement developed from a military post) which had been granted the right in 1834 to establish a municipal government.

Argüello was named the sub-prefect of

SCOTT BECKER, D.D.S. 9850 Generer Arc., Sec. 720 in the Scripp Happed Complex 653-6584

(councilmen) and a sindico (legal adviser) didn't last long; the 1834 population of 500 souls had dropped to 150 by 1841, necessitating the town council be replaced by a justice of the peace. By 1845, however, San Diego's population had resumed growing, and it was entitled to a sub-prefect. Arguello later ordered a survey which granted San Diego title to thousands of acres of pueblo lands.
