Citizen Slob

The Reader has performed a valuable service for fellow American citizens. The article by Matt Potter was a most incredible saga of local political intrigue ("The Plot to Steal the Vote," March 21). It just shows what fools our fellow citizens, those whom we elected to local office, really think we are. It would seem obvious that they don't care about the ordinary hardabout the oriniary hardworking American patriot; we're just another citizen slob to them; they loathe us. I'm falling in behind Bruce Henderson and Richard Rider.

On this brilliant morning in Rancho Santa Fe, the smell of fresh-mown grass and jasmine in the warm air, this attractive woman — mother of five daughlers, grandmother of six grand-children — and her animated chatter about the pleasures of her addiction seem very out of place. Baker, gray hair pulled into a neat bun, wears immaculate white tennis shoes and a pristine pink jogging suit, the sweatshirt of which bears an image of Tuck, her Border terrier.

"There are quite a few of us addicts here in Rancho Santa Fe," Baker continues airily. "Of course, we all know each other."

Lobotomized In Public Schools

I see that George Orwell's An-imal Farm has come to the Reader in the guise of Avalee Cohen's letter of March 14. Cohen writes that the Second Amendment reads, "In the ab-sence of a trained militia, the citizen has the right to bear arms." Now, I may not own a gun, but I can read the Constigun, but I can read the Consti-tution, and I can also spot a liar. Like political apparatchiks everywhere, Cohen assumes that most people — having been lobotomized in public schools — cannot think and will not check a reference to

ON ANGELS

All was taken away from you: white dresses, wings, even existence. Yet I believe you,

There, where the world is turned inside out. a heavy fabric embroidered with stars and beasts, you stroll, inspecting the trustworthy seams.

Short is your stay here: now and then at a matinal hour, if the sky is clear, in a melody repeated by a bird, or in the smell of apples at the close of day when the light makes the orchards magic.

but to me this does not sound convincing for humans invented themselves as well.

The voice — no doubt it is a valid proof, The voice — no doubt it is a valid proof, as it can belong only to radiant creatures, weightless and winged (after all, why not?), girdled with the lightning.

I have heard that voice many a time when asleep and, what is strange, I understood more or less an order or an appeal in an unearthly tongue;

another one do what you can.

The Fageas' recent showcase at the South by Southwest McIsc and Media Conference in Austin, Texas, a couple of weeks ago was one of the best-attended hip-hop shows that the conference has ever featured. Because of its locale, the conference tends to be devoted to Texas blues and indie rock, but devoted to Texas blues and indie rock, but despite a rainstorm that shut the outdoor showcase down for a half hour, the Fugees' show was one of the annual convention's biggest draws. Outside Stubbs, a huge line of real people — as opposed to music-bit conferences — stood patiently in the rain to hear the Hatlatia-born Brookly hand play. The Fugees — the name is a diminu-tibn of "refugees" play an irresistable beind of hard beats and rhymes wound up in easily accessible rock anapples, maging from a single play and the samples, maging from the samples, maging from the samples, maging from the samples of a new breed of rap act, less mean than gangstag groups, but just as authentic. MISCELLAN PICTURE STORY

by the San Diego Historical Society

1920. San Diego's vibrant Italian community had its genesis in a southern migration from San Francisco in the early 1870s; those farmers and fishermen were followed by later waves of their countrymen in 1902 and 1906 from Genoa, Italy, and San Francisco respectively. Mostly Sicilian, the newcomers formed a tightly-knit community freeway cleaved the neighborhood in two. in the neighborhoods that wove in and about India, State, and Date Streets - Little Italy.

As the photo indicates, many of Little Italy's first residents earned their livelihood from the sea. Using skills honed on the warm waters of the Mediterranean, local Italian fishermen pursued rich schools of tuna and sardines off the California coast. For a long time, life in Little Italy was good - at least until the early 1960s, when the newly-minted Interstate 5

SAUCY, INTELLIGENT PROFESSIONAL, 24, long blonde/blue, 5'77, seeking seriously humorous friendship (4'7). Laughter essential. I'm open-minded and not a prude. Smoke, drink OK. Tall a plus. 27

Teresa: I was looking for someone who didn't want to just casually date. I figured that the guys who answered Phone Matches" ads would be thinking along the same lines.

Michael: It was a pretty basic message: my name, age, height, and I like to have fun. Call me.

and I like to nave tun. Call line.

Teresa: He's the only one I called out of 68 responses. The other guys talked about money, champagne, bubble baths, living in La Costa ... and Michael, well, he didn't say much of anything.

Michael: The first time we talked, the conversation lasted for a couple of hours. All of our conversations were like that. I think we were having so much fun on the phone we were afraid to meet.

Teresa: I suggested that we do a drive-by meeting, but he didn't like that idea. Then a girlfriend of mine let Michael know we'd be at a dance club that night. Michael: I didn't know what she looked like, and the place was packed. I kept going up to groups of girls and introducing myself, but I couldn't find her. Finally, the band took a break and I asked them to page her when they came much to drink. As I was going out the door, they made the announcement. I said, "Wait! I hear my name!"

Michael: It was really awkward, but she took a liking to me. We went back inside and danced until closing.

Teresa: Then we went out to eat and ended up at my house, kissing in the parking lot as the Michael: The next day we met at the O.B. street fair. We had a great time. We said goodbye a hundred times before she finally left.

Teresa: We saw each other pretty much every night after that. He told me he loved me three weeks later.

Teresa: Michael proposed at Disneyland, next to the wishing well in Toon Town. We set the date at Pirates of the Caribbean. Michael: We're getting married this June at the Horton Grand Hotel, and then we're driving up to Canada for our honeymoon.

Michael: We're from totally different backgrounds. I'm from New York, and Teresa's from California.

Teresa: He's adventurous, outgoing, and emotionally strong. I'm sensitive, caring, and more analytical.

Michael: It's not that we're opposites; we just bring different things to the table.

Teresa: I've gotten three or four girlfriends to put ads in the Reader. I tell them, "If you can shop for a car, you can shop for a man."
