Citylink Has Zero

Citylink Has Zero
Experience
Your article on the new City Heights police station left me seeking answers to many questions ("City Lights," March 28). Like, why was multimilion-dollar contract awarded without bids' Whatever happened to competition? Aren't there any laws about giving the contract to the lowest bidder? You can't do this if there the contract to the lowest bid-der? You can't do this if there der? You can't do this if there are no bidders. How much profit does the Citylink corporation net from their no-bid contract? It seems that Citylink has zero experience in developing or building. Just what is their qualification to redealed City Heights, aside from is their qualification to rede-velop City Heights, aside from the fact that their president is a former city councilman? The awarding of this contract fol-lows a pattern at city hall of ig-noring competitive bidding that we saw with the stadium expansion contract, which is now in the courts. We keep now in the courts. We keep hearing how business-friendly city government is. But a po-lice station built with city funds has managed to screw many contractors out of monies that are due them.

We can debate the pros and cons of gan ownership, but let's please keep our facts

Ingratiating
And Grating
In the March 28 issue, letter writer Jim Earp objects to what he calls "condescending moral superiority" and "ingratiating moral tone." I would caution him to look up the difference between ating and grating.

In our expert opinion, we believe the NH1 model "SuperZeros" and their SW-2P/MA-1A subwoofer and power amp-total price of $940—sound significantly better than any speaker the others carry, regardless of price.

While these stores continue to carry "me too" products, Sound Company did it again with another-exclusive super line called NHT (Now Hear This). Perhaps no new speaker company has taken the market by storm in the past several years like California-based NHT. NHT has come out of nowhere to become the leader of a new wave of speaker companies breaking down the barriers between audiophile performance and affordability. NHT has models from $240 per pair (the SuperZeros) to $4300 per pair (the 3.3s).

Here's what Seth Goldwin of Home Theater Technology had to say in the March 1995 issue: "A good speaker's hard to find: and good cheap speaker's even harder. So what if introduce you to agood cheap speaker's even harder. So what if introduce you to speaker is the speaker's hard to find: and the steaker is the speaker's hard to speaker's hard to see that the speaker's hard to see the speaker's hard to see the speaker's are NHTs?

"The NHT SuperZeros, to be specific. I bought a pair to try out, then within a week went back to the dealer and bought three more Scs, plus NHTs SWP-powered subwoofer (reviewed the speaker's NHT).

Across town, Lalo and Manuel are working in Lalo's cousin's yard. They have several planks of raw pine between them, and they are cutting them up with a borrowed saw. Though they are still hornfied over Consuelo's death, they are also getting the giggles. Lalo's cousin has poured two beers down their throats already, and he has gone to get some tequila.

"God damn it, Lalo," Manuel says. "Did you have to kill het tonight?! was going to make love to Juanita!"

Lalo falls down laughing.

"Stop it! You're killing me!"
"Look who's talking," Manuel says.

Juanita looks up as fat Mari stops by,

"I only have 50 cents," Mari says, "but I brought something for Don Pepe."

"¿Mamá?" Don Pepe asks, his poached-looking eyes rolling back and forth.

"No, old man, it's me, Marilu." She kisses him on the head.

ONE OF THE PIGLETS IS TRAPPED INSIDE AND screeches as it burns. Perla holds her hands over her ears. Fina, blood on her face, sheepishly comforts Juanita.

Abandoned, the coffin lies half finished. Lalo is asleep. Manuel and Lalo's cousin are drunk and singing love songs. Tears run down Manuel's cheeks. It does not occur to him to go home. He takes the bottle. The tequila rips down his throat like a bare electric wire. "I don't give a shit," he says to no one, no one at all.

A Lecture Series on The Psychology of Consciousness Beginning April 5, 1996

The broad concourse of life-after-life, of life and death, is an inner directed study of the mind, a research into the psychodynamics of consciousness. Its purpose is to awaken the individual to previous life encounters, the clairvoyant aptitude of the mind, and the reality of one's spiritual connection.

the mind, and the reality of one's spiritual connection. The Psychology of Consciousness seaches a corrective and preventive psychotheneys based upon the physics of reither-nation, a comprehensive curriculum of self-offer noish and brain-body system. In advancing the knowledge of the spiritual principles of life, the teachings of Unarius explain the origin of atomic life within the new holographic paradigm of an interdimensional science.

PROTESTANT EASTER

When he was a little boy Jesus was good all the time. No wonder that he grew up to be such a big shot who could forgive people so much. When he died everyone was mean. Later on he rose when no one else was looking. Either he was hiding or else went up. Haybe he was only hiding! Maybe he could fly?

Maybe he could fly?

Vesteday! found a purple crocus blowing in way out of the snow.

It was getting its work done.

Maybe lesus was only getting his work done and letting God blow him off the Cross and maybe he was afraid for a minute was afraid for a minute.

He was smart to go to sleep up there even though his mother got so sad and let them put him in a cave. I sat in a tunned when I was five. That tunned, my mother said, and so I never west tagain.

Mayba Jesus knew my tunnel and crawled right through to the river so be could wash all the blood off, and crawled right through to the river so be could wash all the blood off, and then come hack again?

Don't tell me that a went up in smoke like Daddy's cgrid.

It is special being here at Easter with the Cross they built like a capital T. The ceiling is an upside down rowboat. I usually count its ribs. Maybe he was drowning? Maybe he was drowning!
I can see the face of a nous inside

Once I though the Bunny Rabbit was special

That's when I was seven.
I just have to get Him straight.
And right now.

Who are we anyhow? What do we belong to? Are we a we?

I think that he rose but I'm not quite sure and they don't really say singing their Alleluta in the churchy say. Jesus was on the churchy say. Jesus was on the through the control of the churchy say.
