In our expert opinion, we believe the NHT model "SuperZeros" and their SW-2P/MA-1A subwoofer and power amp-total price of $940 -- sound significantly better than any speaker the others carry, regardless of price. While these stores continue to carry "me too" products, Sound Company did it again with another exclusive super line called NHT (Now Hear This). Perhaps no new speaker company has taken the market by storm in the past several years like California-based NHT. NHT has come out of nowhere to become the leader of a new wave of speaker companies breaking down the barriers between audiophile performance and affordability. NHT has models from $240 per

THELIBRARY

Another life, another world since the books Another life, another world since the boo Called me out into a headshaking daze: Suddenly I was looking through the eyes Of a child peering up at the canted stacks,

While light drilling down from lampshades cast Heavy shadows and darkness blurred in the ceiling dome's Lunette. Worn at the edges, utterly common. The books no longer knew me: When had I gotten lost

On the way to here! Melted snow-water's Slick track on the floor; the spines' crack; the sour Dizzying reek of binding glue as if the door Of a sealed tomb had been forced ajar—:

All the illicit danger and desire
I courted as a child again hovered like a nimbus
Wincing in the dome's crescent-shaped glass
Aloof above the rampant, gravid whispers

Sprouting and twining round each other— A forest of voices called out to me As my fingers ransacked alphabetically, Tracing down the spines the shadowy letters

Guileful, sinister in their loops and whorls. The shelves leaning over me looked down On their child, avid, promiscuously blown From book to book, finding what was needful

In the heat of his pursuit...which leads him Beyond what's printed on those pages; beyond even The shadow-crossed dome to the swollen moon Peering through the window of a sick child's room:

A presence unavailing, but slyly curious To see the flushed, sweating face of fever Whose eyes almost cross ekeing out each letter By a light shadowy as Sheherazade's kiss...

Weaving words like a veil, digression By digression she leads him back home; Thirty years on, yet he's a child again, Fingering the books beneath the moon-riven dome:

His heart contracts as he searches for her name

— And finding it, feels a strange elation:
His cheeks burn as the book falls open.
The shelves rise like mountains to the sky's rim.

Phone Matches Success Stories: Melinda & Tom Balsamo

ITÁLIAN, 31, single. Hi ladies, I'm just a nice guy seeking a woman to treat like a lady! Honesty, communication a must. Offer you can't refuse! $\textit{Tom:}\ 1$ would advertise in spurts, depending on whether I was dating someone or not. This ad got three responses.

Melinda: Answering the ad was all my roommate's idea. She said, "This is the way you neet nice professional men." So we'd go through the paper together and pick out the good ones. I liked Tom's ad because I ve always found Italian men romantic.

Do you have a Phone Matches" "Success Story" to share?

Tom: We met outside of Trophy's and I had a rose waiting for her under my front seat. Then we drove over to Scaport Village, walked around for a while, and had a couple of drinks on top of the Hyatt. That night we talked about a lot of different things.

Tom: We went out the very next night to see Carlito's Way.

Melinda: A nice romantic movie. He also gave me a little stuffed bear we had seen the night before in Scaport Village.

Tom: The thing that I like the most about Melinda is her little girl innocence. She's such a beautiful person, and so easy to get along with. But we came very close to breaking up a month after we met.

Melinda: Tom was overwhelming at first. I was afraid he was just trying to charm me.

Tom: Melinda was indecisive. She told me she wanted to go out with other guys, and then she said she hoped to find someone else like me. I told her she wouldn't. Melinda: The next week I had a car accident. I think that's the thing that really made Tom: I went to the hospital to pick her up, and did anything I could to help her. She realized I was going to be there when it counts.

Melinda: Then came Valentire's Day, when he taped candy hearts all ever the scats of my car and stuffed the inside with belloons.

Tom: The night we got engaged, I told Melinda I had won a dimerfilms package on the radio. We had dinner as The Shores in La Jolla, and then I cede over to the cove and walked down to the beach. After I proposed, the first words out of her mouth were. "You lied to me!"

Melinda: We got married on March 25 at the Little Chepel of the Roxes and then drove up the Coast Highway to San Francisco.

Tow: I was kind of hesiant at first to tell people how we met, caft think it's also there than meeting someone ia a blir. As you get older, that scene gets really old.

Melindac: I work with a lot of single women, and when I told them, they said, "Ohi, I don't know if I'd be as lucky as you." But any roommets—the one I used to look through the Reader ask with—she also found somone through Phone Matches". They got married a month after they met.

by the San Diego Historical Society

nd you thought olive oil was produced only in Spain or Italy! Here, San Diego's own "Old Mission Olive and Olive Oil Factory" is shown in this 1916 photo of the factory's Old Town complex. Word has it that the area's first olive trees were planted by the padres at the San Diego mission in the late 1700s; within a decade, locally-pressed olive oil was being shipped regularly to the other California missions.

Aside from the mission plantings, San Diego's olive crops also took root in various areas around the county; particularly wellknown were the groves of National City, Spring Valley, and the Presidio. Chances are, some of those early trees are still in existence in various back yards: olive trees are known for their longevity, with the occasional specimen living up to half a century!
