What It's Like To Be White

To Be White
I suggest that the Reader do some interviews with whites, as they're so-called in this thursday's issue of the Reader ("Whites Feel This Country Belongs to Them," August 29), because most of the people that were interviewed in that article regarding blacks and whites and the reacism issue have a severely distorted, delu-sional, grandeur view of what it is to be a Caucasian, and until these people get a realistic view of what it's like to be a white, then the walls of segre-gation and discrimination are Shauna Silva

Very White. Very Offended

I'm calling to complain about the cover of this week's Reader Whites Feel This Country when I saw it on the cover. I'm a children's martial art in-structor here in San Diego. and I try to do away with racism as much as I can, and when I read something like this, it makes me feel offended,

Senseless And Tasteless

I wanted to comment on the recent cartoon in the Reader about the Fashion Valley renabout the Fashion Valley ren-ovation (J.D. Crowe, August 29). It certainly would be nice if your cartoonist did a little research and didn't put in such a tasteless cartoon and a jab at Fashion Valley. The guy that fell off the building was that fell off the building was working on Robinsons-May. Yes, it is located in the Fashion Valley shopping center. There are probably a lot of other people who have been injured in accidents, too, and I'm sure the family of the injured craise the family of the injured crane worker is certainly happy to see this cartoon depicting another tragedy that's happened. what carteries the eye is cloud of white fluff accentuated by a few dramatic gray pacches. Only up close do the oddities of Amber's face command atten-tion. Her ears, one notices, aren't symmetrical; they curl and twist and lack chunks from the close. And her pose; miss the edges. And her nose is miss-ing. Beneath her placid eyes, a ribbed pink cave a bit smaller in marks the entrance to her nasal

Such are the wages of sunbathing in the animal world. Amber is a victim of solar-in-duced squamous-cell carcinoma — skin cancer triggered by san rays. Amber's owner, consigned to the back yard of his home in Chula Vista. Horn's other cat, slightly older, claimed the indoors. "They don't fight, but I guess they just decided one was better inside and one was better outside." Horn saw noth-ing wrong with that. The public was kept away from the course, and the press was holed up in the clubhouse for most of the round. The closest witnesses were Clinton's three partners: San Diego attorney Robert Ca-plan, wine industry official Ira Gourvitz, and Michael Cavanaugh, a Southern California property developer. Also going along was Shelia Lawrence the woman who arranged the outing. She is the widow of M

Porfirio Diaz was known around the world as the "Errong Man of Mexico," the stern, wise parent of his people. A genius. Incomparable. He had turned Mexico from a primitive state hardly worth exploiting to land of opportunity where capitalists from any ation could strike it richer. By 1910 Diaz had been president for M years, sur-ounded by a cabinet of cronics and financial wizards, Mexican and foreign, who ran the country by the axiom, "What's good for business is good for the hation." The business of the Diaz regime was busi-ness. He and his treasury secretary, Don José Yves Liman-

1899 freely again across America. The drought was over. Unfortunately, a lot of great beers like Black & Tan had disappeared. Anheuser-Busch first brewed Black & Tan in 1899. Since times have changed, they're brewing it again, in the style of its predecessor. It's a porter, just as it was when "Black & Tan" was Anheuser-Busch's trademark. The taste of Black & Tan hints at chocolate and coffee because it's brewed with chocolate and caramel malt. It's a rich, complex porter that's extremely drinkable. Look for Black & Tan next to the other pre-Prohibition beers of Anheuser-Busch.

Jack — Filmographically speaking, the seventh or so of Robin Williams's excuss to act like a child — the closest in time and in alphabet to Jamany, though in the second was almost as close, and in phonetics even closer, to Hook — must command a even closer, to Hools — must command a certain amount of clinical interest. Not enough of it, by the same token, to out-weigh exaperation. The excuse this time he's a medical anomaly whis, born fully de-liber a medical anomaly whis, born fully de-the accelerated rate of four years to one, something like a dog. For a long while the mervie, if not the viewer, avoids doing the grim calculation of life expectancy, spend ing its time in recess on the playground rather than studying line four of the multi-plication table. When it can be avoided no longer, the consoling culogies get started well ahead of the gravedigger. Lone Star — Ostensible, possible murder mystery. Two souvenir hunters on a long-deserted rifle range in a remote corner of a nonessential military base discover, among the cacti and yucca, a single set of human remains. Initial indications — the Mason's ring that got the attention of the metal de-tector, a runted tis star — point toward the infamous correspt shriff who were missing forty years back. And initial suspicions point toward the late, legendary sherriff who susceeded h.m. The current sherriff happens to be the legend's son, and if for no other reason than the heaviness of the shadow under which he toils — "Sherriff Deeds is dead, honey. You're just Sherriff Junior"— he would not rerorough'be all that unhareev
