This vision-correcting procedure was first utilized as a method of improving vision in the early '60s but now vision can often be restored with an accelerated program, in a matter of weeks.

Orthokeratology is designed to quickly reduce the patient's myopic ordition and to improve vision with a succession of specially fitted erapeutic contact lenses which gently reshape the curvature of the cornea.

Advanced techniques and new technology in specialized contact lenses have revolutionized eye care in the field of vision restoration.

Special stabilizing contact lenses are also available to prevent or retard the gradual increase of nearsightedness.

Dr. Michael Satterlee is highly qualified in this procedure, and holds a fellowship certificate from the International Orthokeratology section of the National Eye Research Foundation, with over 25 years of orthokeratology experience. His practice is devoted to contact lenses

I just have a couple of questions as to how old she is, if she's ever experienced a Kiss show, and if she's ever Pearl Jam and all these other bullshit bands that are ou heard any of their music prior to this concert. I'm 25 years old, and this is the first time I'd ever been to a show. I paid $250 for my seat in the second row right in the middle, and there's no other concert - I don't care who it was, no other don't care who it was, no other person, the president, the Pope, anybody — that could get me to pay that much again besides them. They put on an astounding show. She has no concept of anything that is returned to the president of the president they did their seats because they did their seats because their seats were way back. So I don't know where she gets off talking about how well their costumes were made. I'd like to see her if she was in this profession, in her 50s, trying to put on a show like they did. I Grew Up With This Band

I'm calling about the write-up in the Reader for Novem-ber 7 about the Kiss review (Pon Music) My midber 7 about the Kiss review (Pop Music). My wife just called. I'm calling about the article written by Gina Arnold, or whatever her name is. First of all, my comment is, who-ever this lady is or whatever she is, I found her article very disturying, rude, and unpro-fessional. She's probably never 33 years old myself. I grew up with this band; they inspired me through the '70s; they dominated the '70s; they were dominated the '70s; they were the only thing people talked about. Just to let her know, here are in history books in the music industry, and for her to sit and write a review, probably only sening her first show—which I've viewed probably is shown during the '70s—is assinine and ridiculous. The comments that she made, here are nine and ridiculous. The comments that she made, because she talked to a group of men who are contuments, who commended to the people there from age 8 to 65. You also said, "Black malee make up 4 percent of the population and commit 50 percent of violent crime." You are wrong, Mr. Gilbert, read your history. When the white man (your ancestor) set this racist system up that we live under today, and this goes back to the days of slavery, one of the first laws the slave master made and strictly enforced was that no blacks could own or carry a gun. And those laws, sir, are still on the books today. But here's how you make black men look like violent perpetrators in this society.

Since black men don't have the money or resources (in fact, most of them don't even have jobs), this is how the game is played. The white man will bring the automatic and will bring the automatic and high-tech weapons and his drugs (crack) into the black community, or as the media call them, ghettos, and sell them to each gang (it makes no difference), hoping they will engage or become engaged in violent gang activity, and the media will write in the

Although cows have been grazing in Scrietanc Ciengag (Spanish for marsh) for 100 years, the Anza-Borrego Desert State Park seeks to buy 1900 acres on behalf of its endangered residents, including the unarranored threespine stickleback fish, the California red-legged freg, and the least Bell' virco.

The virco's troubles in Sentenac can be reaced to eather is the tramarsisk tree and the brown-headed covobird.

Timarix chinensis, or salt cedar, is a 19th-century import, and when the marsh was burned in 1989 to increase cattle forage, tamarisk spread faster than the parise plant.

Bell's virco — find the tamarisk too dense for nesting. Should the virco nest leewhere, its net problem is the brownheaded cowbird, which migrates with the property of the problem of the property of the pro

Desert State Park and the Anza-Borrego Foundation will celebrate the $1 million halfway mark in their fundraising with a public tour of the canyon and ciénaga. Since the canyon is home to puncture vine and cocklebur, hikers should wear sturdy shoes. The air in the marsh is delightfully, autumnally cool, so dress in layers.

San Diego's central library under construction, August 3, 1953. Located between 8th and 9th Avenues on E Street in downtown San Diego, the library was touted during its opening ceremonies as being one of the most "economical and satisfactory" libraries hometown boosterism, the facility has lost some of its luster in recent years. The debate over where to locate a new central library - if and when one is built - is nothing new to San Diego; public demand for an adequate facility and the ensuing private (as in voting booth) rejection of the same have comprised an ongoing phenomenon since the turn of the century. One thing is sure though; those city visionaries who in the 1950s conin the United States. Despite the fervor of that sidered and rejected the prospect of buying the entire block the library sits on now — because of its prohibitive $500,000 price tag - may now be regretting that vision.
