I first heard about Tom Henry from a woman with whom I had worked. She had a friend she said, who had lost
both testicles to cancer.
He now took supplemental testosterone shots, and he did bounce right back, with the reduction of moxie and engery level and felt like one of a woman.

Sometimes he would
stump the nurse,
and toward the end of his cycle
he would go low and feisty. Then she'd suggest, only half jokingly, "Tom, it's time for your shot."

This, I thought, is something I would like to try.

Testosterone incredibly works right now.
It's been in GQ and on the cover of Newsweek and Scientific American.
It's vigorous and big-time.
It'll make you
young, make you sexy, make you go. If you're a drug dealer, it might make you rich. What does it do when you're not looking for a miracle or the body of Contest? If you're just an ordinary guy running your own business!

I TAUGHT THEM HOW TO CHUM THEM RIGHT

I first taught Jack Bohannon how to chum while working on the water. I was helping him out by instructing him in the art of chumming, and the two of us were on our way to obtaining a catch. Bohannon is a seasoned angler, having spent years honing his skills on the water. His goal was to teach me how to chum, and I was eager to learn. We were in the middle of a lake, and the water was calm. The sun was setting, casting a beautiful glow over the scene. Bohannon placed his chum on the water, and I watched intently as he began to chum. He had a methodical approach, casting the chum in a series of small, gentle throws. We were working on the New York State, and the water was clear, allowing us to observe the chum as it settled to the bottom. Bohannon explained the importance of chumming, stating that it was a crucial step in attracting and maintaining fish in the area. He also emphasized the necessity of using the right type of chum, depending on the fish species and the water conditions.

Bohannon then went on to demonstrate how to use a chum basket, which he had on his boat. He showed me how to properly fill the basket with chum and how to fasten it securely to the side of the boat. He explained the importance of having the basket ready and within reach, so that it could be quickly deployed when needed. We spent the afternoon working on the water, and Bohannon continued to teach me how to chum. He shared his knowledge and experience, and I learned a great deal. We caught some fish, and Bohannon congratulated me on my progress. He encouraged me to continue practicing and to develop my skills. Bohannon also shared some tips on how to read the water and understand the behavior of fish, which I found to be invaluable.

As the day drew to a close, Bohannon reminded me of the importance of chumming, stating that it was a key component in successful fishing. He emphasized the need to chum consistently, even when the fish were not biting. He also stressed the importance of using the right amount of chum, depending on the depth and the distance from the boat. Bohannon then turned off the motor, and we sat on the deck, admiring the sunset and the beauty of the lake. He pointed out some of the fish we had caught and explained the characteristics of each species. Bohannon then packed up the boat, and we headed back to shore.

Bohannon's expertise and knowledge were impressive, and I left the water with a newfound appreciation for the art of chumming. He had taught me well, and I knew that I had a long way to go before I mastered the skills. However, I was excited to continue learning and practicing, and I was grateful for Bohannon's guidance. Thanks to his patient instruction, I had gained a valuable skill that would serve me well in the future.

I had missed one of the best Mexican restaurants in North County.

ome years ago when my magazine editor at North County Life asked me to write about the best Mexican restaurants in the area, I reluctantly agreed. I knew that I would have to try a few places to get the best possible review. Finally, I decided to try La Esquina in San Diego.

La Esquina is located on 3rd Street near the San Diego Convention Center. The restaurant has a traditional Mexican decor with colorful tiles and a large bar. The menu is extensive and includes all types of Mexican dishes, from traditional tacos and enchiladas to more modern items like ceviche and grilled fish.

I ordered the carne asada tacos, which were served with a side of refried beans and a fresh salad. The meat was incredibly tender and flavorful, and the tortillas were soft and warm. The refried beans were spicy and the salad was fresh and crisp.

Overall, La Esquina is a great choice for anyone looking for authentic Mexican cuisine. The prices are reasonable and the service is friendly. I would definitely recommend trying La Esquina the next time you're in San Diego.

The grandeur, excitement, and beauty of the Baroque come totally alive in Tiepolo, in its last eminent representative.

New York's Metropolitan Museum has assembled from almost all the world's major collections two hundred works of art by eighteenth-century Venetian artist Giovanni Battista Tiepolo (1696-1770). The most popular over the years, Tiepolo, a Genoese artist who worked all his life in Italy, has been known for his monumental paintings and frescoes, and especially for the moonlit landscapes of the Venetian lagoon. But Tiepolo was also a master of small oil paintings, and he painted large altarpieces, frescoes, and murals for churches and palaces. His work is characterized by a sense of movement and space, and by a sense of the supernatural.

The exhibition, which opens at the Metropolitan on April 19 and closes on September 25, is the first major Tiepolo show in New York City in nearly a century. The paintings are drawn from the collections of museums in New York, London, Paris, and Venice, and from private collections in the United States and Europe. The exhibition includes more than 100 works, including paintings, drawings, and prints.

The show is divided into four sections:

1. Paintings
   - Large-scale works such as the "Jubilee of St. John the Baptist," "The Festival of Fools," and "The Sacrifice of Isaac"
   - Small-scale works such as "The Night Watchman" and "The Three Fates"

2. Drawings
   - Architectural "perspective studies"
   - "Cartoons" for frescoes

3.  Prints
   - "Prints after Tiepolo" by other artists

4. Photo Exhibition
   - "Photographs of Tiepolo's work in situ"

The exhibition is accompanied by a catalogue, which includes reproductions of all the works in the show, as well as essays by leading art historians. The catalogue is available for $15 at the museum.

The exhibition is organized by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, under the direction of John Shear, with the assistance of John Houghton of the British Museum and H. Kirschenbaum of the Art Institute of Chicago. The exhibition is sponsored by the Getty Foundation and the Terra Foundation for American Art.

You Don't Put Ice on an Empty Heart

They make desperate attempts to fill their lives with meaning, their hearts with love.

A review of "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Theatre West. The production, directed by Michael Cacoyannis, is a modern interpretation of the Shakespearean classic. The cast includes some well-known actors, and the production is praised for its fresh take on the text.

The Taming of the Shrew is a classic comedic play by William Shakespeare. It tells the story of a strong-willed woman named Katherina who is tamed by the suave and charming Petruchio. The play is filled with twists and turns, and it is a delight to watch.

In this production, the actors bring their own interpretations to the roles, making the characters come alive. The chemistry between Katherina and Petruchio is electric, and the audience is entertained throughout.

The setting is modern, with a mix of traditional and contemporary elements. The costumes are colorful and fitting, and the set design is impressive.

Overall, this production of "The Taming of the Shrew" is a must-see for anyone who loves Shakespeare. It is a fun and engaging way to experience one of the bard's classics.

The Ballerina & The Tramp

The performance of "The Nutcracker" at the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. The music is beautiful, and the dancing is breathtaking. The production is a must-see for anyone who loves classical music and dance.

The Nutcracker is a holiday classic that has been performed by orchestras and dance companies around the world. The music is composed by Tchaikovsky, and the story is based on a Russian fairytale.

In this production, the music is performed by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, and the dancing is by the Los Angeles Ballet. The production is a feast for the eyes, with colorful costumes and sets.

The Nutcracker tells the story of a young girl named Clara who receives a Nutcracker doll as a gift on Christmas Eve. As she falls asleep, she enters a magical world, where the Nutcracker comes to life and takes her on a journey to the Land of Sweets.

The Nutcracker is a beloved holiday tradition, and this production is sure to delight audiences of all ages.

Introducing Reader PHONE MATCHES, a great place to meet San Diego singles.

You are provided with a free personal matching ad in the Reader Classifieds. You also receive a free 'voice mailbox' - a phone service that allows you to record and receive messages from any touch-tone phone.

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD: To place a free Phone Matches Ad, fill out the coupon below and mail or fax it (229-7097) or us. (If living, phone photographs the coupon free and then fax it.) The deadline for receiving free Phone Matches ads is Saturday at 7 am. No free ads will be accepted over the phone or in person. We'll send you a 3-digit mailbox number to be printed in your ad, and a 4-digit security code for exclusive access to your response.

You may also place an ad until 6 pm Tuesday by phone (120-8290), or in office (7805 La Jolla, or Downtown), or by fax (229-7097). The charge for these free ads is $20 for the first 25 words plus $1.20 per additional word. Ads should be by phone or by fax or with Visa, MasterCard or Discover only.

HOW TO USE YOUR VOICE MAILBOX: After you receive your mailbox number and private security code, you can record your personal introduction and listen to your responses. Call 818-1000, 24 hours a day, and follow the easy instructions. You must have a touch-tone phone.

"Let's go out for dinner," I said. "Don't think of any rules until we're there." To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there.

"Dinner?" he asked, "I thought we were going to get a burger." To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there.

"No, I thought we were going to get a burger." To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there.

"Oh," he said, "I thought you meant we were going to get a burger." To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there.

"No," I said, "I thought we were going to get a burger." To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there. To think of any rules until we're there.
