fewer and fewer San Diegans can afford to go. So the first issue is, should we, as a local government, be building a facility for a pro-fessional football team? The answer to that, I think, is quite clear:

That's why the city council was so degerent that this term not go on the ballot, because they knew there wan't a chance of it passing in San Diego, San Diegons think the money ought to be going into a lot of other things, but certainly not an expanded football stadium for the Chapters. That beings us to the next issue. Having assumed that liability, the city council provided over the last two and a half years no oversight over the liability. Q. What do you mean by ex parte contacts? A. That means that there were contacts outside of noticed council meetings. We have in California what is called the Brown Act, which codifies the Brown Act, which codifies the rule that council people shouldn't do council business with specific individuals except in a public meeting that's been duly noticed, so that you can see what they're saving, what agreements are being made, what the negotiations are. The question here is, what were councilmembers doing in were councilmembers doing in private negotiating aspects of this contract outside public meetings? Were there violations of law? That's something the grand jury needs to look into. The other person on the council, interestingly enough, who has particular responsi-bility, is the councilmember who has for years served on the Stadium Authority. That coun-cilperson is Valerie Stallings. She has served on that committee, as far as I know, since 1991, so her colleagues on the city council would look to her city council would look to her for leadership, she and the mayor. One of the things we're making inquiry of Stallings's office is, What warnings did you provide your council coldid you provide, be,ause you were specifically delegated with the authority to provide the toversight over this Changera' aggerenerat. Those you council collegated? Those you council collegated? Those have answers to and the grand have answers to and the grand jury should jock into.

Q. The record shows that Stallings voted against the various aspects of the project, and the other day she maintained, in a U-T interview, that she had these fears about problems with the Chargers all along A. She definitely noted a we can tell — and I'm talking about hundreds of thousands of people who have been trying to follow this issue, and many of us have tried to look at the record — she never articulated any of the problems, beyond her concern that expansion of the studium would increase traffic.

She has said she's had many concerns. I don't see how any knowledgeable human being could fail to have many concerns. We went down and had many poblic meetings with the council, where we altered them to namy concerns, so she should have, if she was listening, had many concerns. Her job, very specifically as the council representative to the Stadium Authority, was to bring those concerns to the council, to alter them to the problem, and take steps to address her concerns.

Maybe, what we need to do is to hold, as her campaign contribution list and find out why she remained silent, because there are only two possible reasons why she would remain silent. One is because he made some nor for promise to campaign contributions that she wouldn't find the contributions that she wouldn't make the contributions that she wouldn't.

Q. What about the role of the local juriclary in all of this? There were two San Diego superior court judges that ruled on these stadium that ruled on these stadium issues, one in the validation case and the second one in the referendum case, and both ruled against you and let the project and the deal with the Chargers proceed. Were they mistaken?

A. Well, we wouldn't have gone to court if we hadn't believed that the indicate his the second of the court of the c on the ballot.

The point is that there is a long-term liability there, and the city charter and the state constitution are both clear that constitution are both clear that if there are multiyear liabilities, the people are supposed to vote. The judiciary could have stepped in and looked carefully at this. The supreme court has said over the years that the susaid over the years that the su-perior courts are supposed to make the best effort to protect the people's right to wote, and unfortunately the two judges we encountered here in San Diego didn't find any means that made them comfortable to

A different argument than we dever made, a different argument than the city had made. We never had any chance to re-record in this.

Q. Why didn't you appeal the ruling, then? A. We did have a right under the law to appeal that ruling. The problem we had was that $18 million payment to the city conditioned upon the fact that I not appeal Judge Anthony Joseph's opinion. The agree-Judge Joseph's decision, and the stadium goes on the ballot, we'll take the $18 million away. The

Q. From Qualcomm's stand-point, wouldn't that be a sen-sible condition, though? A. I can understand why they did it; I don't think it's indicative of an A-plus in citizenship The people's right to vote is the most important issue of all in a democracy. Well, it isn't guaranteed at all! What's absolutely guaranteed under this contract is that, unless they're fools, the Syanos family is poing to start shopping this team in 2003!

Q. The city says Spanos can't shop the team unless certain conditions are met.

A. The contract says you can only go out and shop the team fifth emoney you pay your players exceeds the NH salary cap. That's like a snap of the fingers that's completely in the control of the Chargers to exceed their salary cap. They can do that anytime they want, particularly anytime they want, particularly

He got a job taking care of the rac-ing kind at Santa Anita, and when he was about 20, the trainer or whom he worked asked him take a string to the Caliente track in Tijuana. Bob was mes-merized by the 1950s border town and eventually settled in as one of the many American train-ers at the track, enjoying the easy Tijuana life of racing, gambling, drinking, and whoring. For years he lived in a single room at a hotel across the street from the track and trained for such nota-bles as Kellogg the Cernflake King and bandleader Harry James and his famed pinup wife Betty

Al's wife apparently controlled most of the family fortune.

In the early '90s the marriage discolved and Al went broke at warp speed. He moved into th two-bedroom Zona Rio conde that Bob had rented after his tel raised its prices. Bob ofte rent. One renter was a part owne of Bob's kennel who used the room only two days a month. Another was a friend who kept Another was a friend who kept the room for almost three years while he lived in Russia. Many broken-down horse trainers have lived on the charity of owners, but this may have been the first time in turf history that an owner bunked with his trainer. How bunked with his trainer. How-ever, it was not unusual to see someone flopped out in the spare bedroom or on the couch of Tijuana's Mr. Nice Guy, who had switched to training grey-hounds after Caliente discon-

The ensuing action comes by its suspense honestly and hard-workingly, a formal, a structural sort of suspense, affording the pleasure of watching and waiting for the planted seeds to sprout their fruits. This is very much an aes-thetic pleasure, and the eventual harvest very fulfilling. And Mamer's poetic sense of sound and of rhythm has not abandoned him in the wider-ness. "Now it's the broad Now it's he boodle. Nothing is safe." (Baltwin, who dispatches that line beautifully, has had some prior experience in the Mamer islom, you may recall, in Glen-garry Glen Ross). Lee Tambrin's direction misses no nuance, and the mountainnous scenery, in Donald McAlpine's crisp, bracing, smog-free cinematography, is a sizable bonus. And a small added bonus, if for no one else but me, was the unexpected american and modern issues and tourage. It is going on three years, I believe, since I have been given an op-portunity to mention her name in print. Earlier this year I went so far as to tune in some god-awful doctor show for which TV Guide listed her sa a guest star, just to reassure myself she was still alive. (There was no chance she would return with her new-born to ER once her "sister," Sherry oorn to ER once her "sister," Sherry Stringfield, quit the cast.) And while I don't quite see the point of hiring an actress as strikingly individual as Wil-hoite for a role that could have been filled by just about anybody (funny filled by just about anybody (funny glasses, though), I really can't complain. At least it's a good movie for a change, not Color of Night or Getting Even with Dad. And at least I got a look at her, even if not a good one. All male eyes are expected to be thirsting for Elle. Well, they can have her.

Even including all the Gront Works I was assigned to read in school, I am pretty sure I have never in my life read so long a book that I liked so little as L.A. Confidential. I had made a stab at it some years ago, thinking I really ought to find out what all this lames Ellroy noise is about, and I quickly dropped it, possibly even flung it. I forced myself to pick it up again, and to plow the whole way through it, on hearing the news that it was to be brought to the screen by Curtis Hanson, one of my most trusted

Reader PHONE MATCHES: a great place to singles.

You are provided with a free personal matching ad in the Reader Classifieds. You also receive a free "voice mailbox" -- a phone service that allows you to record and receive messages from any touch-tone phone.

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD: To place a free Phone Matches ad, fill out the coupon below and mail or fax it (233-7907) to us. (If faxing, please photocopy the coupon first and then fax it.) The deadline for receiving free Phone Matches ags is Saturday at 7 am. No free ads will be accepted over the phone or in person. We'll send you a 5-digit mailbox number

(to be printed in your ad) and a 4-digit security code for exclusive access to your responses.

You may also place a late ad until 6 pm Tuesday by phone (235-8200), in our office (1703 India St. at Date St., downtown), or by fax (233-7907). The charge for these late ads is $20 for the first 25 words plus $1.20 per additional word. Ads placed by phone or by fax are with Visa, MasterCard or Discover only.

HOW TO USE YOUR VOICE MAILBOX:

After you receive your mailbox number and private security code. you can record your personal introduction and listen to your responses. Call 881-2000, 24 hours a day, and follow the easy instructions. You must have a touch-tone phone.

QUESTIONS? Call 235-8200, ext. 268.

MEET YOUR MATCH! Use the form below to place your FREE, 2-week Phone Matches Ad and get your FREE Voice Mailbox.

TO PURCHASE AN OPTIONAL HEADLINE, use the lines below, keeping in mind the following: 20 characters per line including spaces; the first initial of each word is capitalized; riations and unusual punctuation will not be accepted; the cost of each line is $12. Continue on a separate sheet if necessary; no more than 10 lines. Please print clearly.
