Shame, Shame,

Shame, Shame, Shame, Your article about San Diego's hosting the Republican National Convention tries to make great hay of the fact that money was accepted from the tobacco industry for the event, and that that was to be considered some that was to be considered some-thing inappropriate ("Grand Old Sam. December 11). Yet to a pages later in your very newspaper, the same edition, you melude full-page ads for cigarette companies, taking hypochy to a new level. Thank you very much. Name withheld

Gutsy Reporting
Re "Grand Old Scam" (December 11). Congratulations on a very rousing and detailed article. It is very refreshing to see such gutsy and thorough reporting in the modern age of professional TelePromp Ferders who pass for reporters.

Keep up the good work.

The double entendre in his complaint, especially fitting in reference to four boys in the throes of puberty, must have been obvious to my dad. It wasn't to me until I started calling around town asking athletes and coaches if they could help me with a story about balls. Three seconds of silence followed by "...balls?" was the usual response. Adding "athletic" to "balls" only reduced the period of silence to two seconds.

Once the confusion was cleared up, all agreed to help. Geoff Griffin, tenns pro at Balboa Tennis Club at Morley Field, is the first. Sitting on a shaded bench alongside court one at the club, he educates me on tennis balls. He's dressed in white shorts and a tennis shire. But not all basketball players use Spalding balls. San Diego State basketball teams use Wilon, Marty Wilson, assistant basketball coach for the University of San Diego men's team, says, "We use the Rawlings bas-ketball, which is the official ball of our league, the West Coast Conference. All eight teams in our league use it. [Every year] each team is given ten backet-balls for free, and then you can buy however many you need after that. Our players like them because they are wide seamed." Over the phone, Lask him.

What is the advantage of the wide seam?
"It seasier to grip. You can be your fingers into the seam and palm the ball because of the vider seam. It's almost like you ran cheat a little bit because your

With the exception of golf, with the exception of gold, in no sport do players discuss balls more than in soccer. Maybe it's because soccer balls, though they must be spherical and 27 to 28 inches in circumference can vary widely in design and construction. I don't know. But on my team, not a practice goes on my tearn, not a practice goes by when someone doesn't blame a poor shot on the ball, and before every game we argue over what ball should be the game ball, everybody offering the ref-eree his favorite. GOODNIGHT,

It's a quarter to three, there's no one in the place / Except you and me...
Yep, sometimes when a man loses a woman, he's just got to go out and drink a dozen double bourbons. Now, that man's woman could have been lost years ago, it don't matter, a real man misses his lost woman every day of his life. He don't tell nobody about it except his liquor bottle and maybe, on a bad night, Joe the bartender.

So, set 'em up Joe, I got a little story / I think you should know...

You see, the pain of losing a good woman, of losing what might have been with that good woman, is a downright discouraging thing. A man, a real man, never gets over THE ONE WHO GOTAWAY. That love-loss pain has driven many a fine hombre into a drunken stupor, time after time after time after goddern time. And so I thought tonight, being a Thursday night, I'd scuffle around town and talk to men about that one woman who got away. Hell, not that it's hard to do; you can go into any gin joint on any night of the week and find a passel of men sitting by themselves, drinking hard and staring into the back bar mirror with big, sad cow eyes. We're drinking my friend, to the end / Of a brief

CHRISTMAS AT SEA

The sheets were frozen hard, and they cut the naked hand; (the decks were like a slide, where a serman scarce could stand. The wind was a nor wester, blowing squally off the sea: And diffs and 'pouting breakers were the only things a -lee.

They heard the surf a-roaring before the break of day:
But twas only with the peep of light we saw how ill we lay.
We tumbled every hand on deck instanter, with a shout.
And we gave her the maintops?l, and stood by to go about.

All day we tacked and tacked between the South Head and the North: All day we hauled the frozen sheets, and got no further forth; At day as cold as charity, in bitter pain and dread. For very life and nature we tacked from head to head.

We gave the South a wider berth, for there the tide-race roared ut every tack we made we brought the North Head close aboard in the coastguard in his garden, with his glass against his eye.

The frost was on the village roofs as white as ocean foam: The good red fires were burning bright in every Tongshore ho The windows sparkled clear, and the chimness volleyed out and I yow we smilled the victuals as the vessel went about.

O well I saw the pleasant room, the pleasant faces there. My mother's silver spectacles, my father's silver hair. And well I saw the firelight, like a flight of homely elves.

And well I know the talk they had, the talk that was of me, (it the chadow on the household and the our that went to sea; And O sits weeked fool I seemed, in every kind of way, to be here and hauling frozen topes on oless if Christmas Day

Another point, which may have been inadvertent, was a demonstration of the general superiority of Vivaldi to most of the other Italian instrumental com-posers of his time. Virtu-ally the whole program was devoted to the late Baroque (Vivaldi died in 1741), with only one work from the early Baroque (Biaearly Baroque (Bia-gio Marini's won-derfully expressive Sonata sopra ia Mon-ica from 1629). The and Francesco Mancini, while skillful and interesting (above all when played with so much sensitivity and com-mitment), tended to ity that is some-times — quite un-justly — attributed to Vivaldi himself.

To been up and holidary parties this year, all you need do is find a ring of chattering amin chair rock critics, and mention, 313 of Sugar Ray. As he music snobs express their disparts which them sayl their drink. It is a subject to the sayl the but we berate the new boys for their lack of content. Utilimately, I think we hate these bands because they render us dat least temporarily irrelevant. If listeners don't notice that the Mighty Mighty Bosstones misuse the expression "knock on wood' throughout their song of the same name, thoy probably sent the types whe'd read our little essays that point out it may send."
