Shelter on "God's Birthday"

By Matthew Lickney

Ross came west from Pennsylvania—"two and a half years ago"—with his new husband. Her ex-husband was "already married to a gay man" and had moved out of the area. Their son, who had recently moved back, was objecting to his mother's new relationship. The couple now reside in a small beach community, close to their son.

"That's not why we went up there," they said. "He was just being an ass. He was always picking on me."

The son was in town for the birthday celebration, which included a large family gathering at a local beach house. "He was just being an ass," they said. "He was always picking on me." The family was in town for the celebration, and the son was looking for a place to stay.

Sister's adventure in DC

After being wounded in a shooting spree in her native city, a sister came to Washington, D.C., to seek safety and solace.

"I just needed to get away from it all," she said. "I just needed to get away from it all." She had been living in a city that was constantly in turmoil, and she needed a place to be alone and think. She had heard that Washington, D.C., was a place where people could be themselves, and she decided to come here for a change.

Candide Justice

When Superior Court judge Terry Byron O'Rourke was allowed a glimpse at the accusations against him, he always paid close attention. The judge was known for being thorough in his investigations, and he never took anything for granted. He always wanted to know the truth, and he was not above going to thesource to find it.

"I always pay close attention to the facts," he said. "I always pay close attention to the facts." He had a reputation for being fair and impartial, and he was known for his dedication to justice. He was always prepared to hear all sides of the story, and he was not afraid to make difficult decisions.

SPOR TIN G BOX

This month marks the anniversary of the birth of the national anthem of the United States. It was on June 14, 1777, that the flag of the United States was officially adopted by Congress. The flag features 13 stripes and 13 stars, representing the 13 original colonies. The national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," was written by Francis Scott Key after witnessing the American victory at the Battle of Baltimore during the War of 1812. Key's poem was set to the tune of a British drinking song and became the official national anthem in 1931.

DEATH OF A BABY BROTHER

My brother was an amazing man. Compared to the rest of us — York, me, you, you're all the same — my brother was the glamorous one, the one with the most potential. And so the moment he died, everyone, including me, was shocked. He had a passion for life, and he was always surrounded by friends and family. Even when he was in hospital, people would come to visit him because he was so charismatic. He was always the life of the party, and he always knew how to make people feel welcome and included.

But then it happened. He passed away on us. He was 30 years old, and he had been in the hospital for weeks due to a severe illness. His death was sudden and unexpected, and it left everyone in shock. We were all so helpless, and we couldn't believe it. He was our shining star, and we were so proud of him. He was the one who always had the answer, and he was always there for us. But now he was gone, and we were all left to deal with the grief.

And so we are left with the question: Why? Why did this happen? Why did he have to leave us so soon? We don't have answers, and we don't know if we ever will. But we know that he was loved, and we know that he will be missed. He was a wonderful person, and he will always be in our hearts. He was the best brother we could have asked for, and we will always remember him with love.

When the first hard contraction hit my wife Deirdre, BUCKLING HER AT HER MIDDLE AND SQUEEZING FROM HER LUNGS AS SHOCKED AS HER FIRST THOUGHT WAS: "I DON'T KNOW IF I CAN DO THIS WITHOUT DRUGS." HER SECOND THOUGHT WAS "IDON'T KNOW IF IEVER WANT TO DO THIS AGAIN" SHE DID IT "— GAVE BIRTH — WITHOUT DRUGS AND SHE DOES WANT TO DO IT AGAIN — WITHOUT DRUGS.

Several months into Deirdre’s pregnancy, we read an article titled "The Best Birth Experience in Australia: The Birth Center". The article, written by Dr. Robert Bradley, advocated for a natural birth experience. Bradley’s approach was based on the belief that women should be empowered to make informed decisions about their birth process. Bradley’s method involved weeks of preparation, education, and a supportive environment, which he believed could help women have a positive birthing experience without the need for drugs.

Reading about Bradley’s method, Deirdre and I decided to pursue this approach. We started attending Bradley’s classes, where we learned about the importance of breathing, relaxation techniques, and the role of the birthing coach. We also discussed the potential benefits of a natural birth and the potential risks of using drugs during labor.

Several months later, our daughter was born. The birthing experience was a mix of natural childbirth and medical intervention. Despite the challenges, Deirdre was able to remain focused on her decision to avoid drugs and deliver the baby naturally. The birthing process was a testament to the power of natural childbirth and the importance of informed decision-making.

"No Intervention, No Drugs, No Medications, Nothing OTHER THAN YOUR OWN POWER."

TELEPHONE happy ever after?

"You can't just automatically say, 'Drugs are evil'
And bad. Some babies, if you Let nature take its course,
aren't going to survive,
or they're going to get
DAMAGED!"

How do you know when to Shake a baby's limbs.

All babies are born
with a CFH gene.
Women who are carriers
have a 1 in 4 chance
of passing the CFH gene
to their children.

In 1958, the first baby
with CFH was born
in a hospital in Boston.

Dr. Michael Eisenberg,
the head of the newborn
surveillance program at
the hospital, noticed
that babies with CFH
were more likely to die.

He went on to study
the gene, and found
that it caused
problems with
the baby's kidneys.

Dr. Eisenberg
then went on to study the gene
further, and
found that it
caused problems
with the baby's
lungs.

He was able to identify babies
with CFH
using a special
test, and he was able to 救 those babies
before they died.

Now, babies with CFH
are born in hospitals
around the world,
and they are saved
from dying of CFH.

Dr. Eisenberg
was the first to
identify CFH,
and he was
the first to save babies
from it.

He was a hero.

But he didn't do it
alone.

His wife, Dr. Mary Eisenberg, was also a hero.

She worked
tirelessly,

Dr. Eisenberg
and Dr. Mary Eisenberg
saved babies
from CFH.

A small child runs amok, clinging to the legs of the first chair cornetist.

N
all Salvation Army marches are considered parades. It is a pleasant change to see the pipe band in the sunshine, beating time to a beat.earing a Salvation Army baton along the way, Cornbury would reach inside the pocket of his coat to remove a 50-cent piece. At Grafton he was made one of the Salvation Army baton bearers. "But when I reached Cambridge, I'd stuck back in a pocket of the parade's drums to listen to the drumbeat and trumpet bugle blow through the 'Twelve Days of Christmas.'"

“Every major business in England [once] had their own brass band—mine workers, shoe makers, and heavy industry.”

and the word, "Oh, yes, you mustn't forget to check out the new exhibit at the Art Museum." We were both in agreement, and we made plans to visit the museum later that week.

Being on vacation, the weather was perfect, with the sun shining bright and a gentle breeze blowing. We decided to take a walk along the beach, enjoying the beautiful scenery.

We ended the evening with dinner at a local restaurant, where we enjoyed a variety of delicious dishes. As we left the restaurant, the stars were shining bright in the sky, creating a beautiful and peaceful atmosphere.

The next day, we explored the city and its many attractions, visiting historic sites, museums, and art galleries. We had a wonderful time and made memories that we will cherish forever.

After a day of exploring, we returned to our hotel room and relaxed, feeling grateful for the beautiful experience we had in England. We left the hotel with a sense of悝ination and awe, knowing that this was an experience that we will never forget.

"A gem."
My Cup of French

Some of my favorite chefs vanish, others relocate.

The game of "chefs on the move" comes with a price. Some of the area's best-known chefs have moved on to new restaurants. In the past, I've written about chefs who have left one successful establishment to join another. This time, I'm happy to report that there are some new chefs in town.

My Cup of French

The cleaning crew drank the last of my wine and then left the kitchen spotless. The chef was taking the last bite of his meal and looking out the window at the setting sun. He then turned to me and said, "I just love working here. The atmosphere is perfect and the customers are wonderful." I couldn't help but smile and nod in agreement.
