Once Upon a Time
There Was A Big Fat Bass...
Snarls, Inc.
By Bill Simonson
The elderly gent didn't stand a chance.
Last Wednesday morning, 7:30 a.m., two pit bulls jumped him the moment he entered a store in the arts and crafts section.
It was a regular day on the job for the 150-pound combine known as the Animal Control Unit.
The dogs were barking, lunging, tearing,
and the elderly gent was quickly subdued.

"The dogs had been trained to handle such cases," said one officer. "It's part of the job." The officers were quick to point out that the dogs were well-behaved and under control.

But the elderly gent was not.
He struggled and fought, but the two pounds were too strong.

"We had to use some force," said one officer. "I'm not sure what happened but the dogs were just doing their job."

The elderly gent was taken to the courtroom where he was charged with battering an animal.

Bail, Don't Fail Me Now

Barnaby Brightenburg's fishing boat is out of commission, so he meet Seaforth Boat Rentals at Gate 1 on the Mountains. With a new boat on the way, he will not be fishing in the next few weeks, which is why he did not show up
at the rental place.

"I was there," he said, "but the boat was not there." He explained that he had borrowed the boat from
the rental place and was returning it.

The rental place manager
was not pleased.

"We don't rent boats to people who don't come back," he said.

Brightenburg was angry.
"I was there," he said again,

To make their homes secure, the homeowners of The Entrance Village, a new development in southern California, are installing security systems. The systems include alarm systems and surveillance cameras, both of which are installed by professional contractors. The systems are designed to detect intruders and alert the authorities in case of an emergency.

Men and women gathered here today can muster roughly $135,000 in cash (20 percent of the most expensive home’s price) as a Sandalwood down payment.

Random Acts of Kindness

On October 11th, in honor of National Kindness Day, please consider performing a random act of kindness for a friend or family member. It can be a small gesture, such as bringing them a cup of coffee or leaving a note of encouragement.

Asthma Treatment:

Asthma is a chronic condition that affects the airways. It causes inflammation and swelling, making it difficult to breathe. The condition can vary from person to person, and symptoms can range from mild to severe. There is no cure for asthma, but there are treatments that can help manage symptoms.

Key Features of Asthma Treatment:

- Medications:
  - Inhaled corticosteroids
  - Long-acting beta agonists
  - Leukotriene modifiers

- Lifestyle changes:
  - Avoiding triggers
  - Exercise
  - Smoking cessation

- Monitoring:
  - Home peak flow meter
  - Asthma action plan

Access to Asthma Resources:

- American Lung Association
- Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America
- National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases

For more information, please visit the American Lung Association website at www.lung.org.

Both Ax and His Critic Remain Unchanged

Ax is an exceptionally engaging person, whose rapport with the audience is invariably positive.

Evidently he is a better performer than bestdreamed. The audience is responding to the manic energy of his performance, which is at times almost too much to bear. Ax improvises with the audience, often ready to give them anything, no matter how silly, that they can possibly ask for. This is both a sign of his generosity and his confidence. Ax is not afraid to take risks and push himself to the limit. He is a master of the improv game, and there is no one who can match him in this regard.

Mayor Refuses To Help Fringe Faction

"You often hand stuff to people handing stuff back to you."

In the mid-1990s, a large number of people had moved to San Diego to seek artistic opportunities. The Fringe Festival, held annually, was a popular event that showcased the talents of local artists. As the festival grew in popularity, it became more challenging to manage. In 1997, a group of artists formed the Fringe Faction to help organize and promote the event. However, the city council refused to provide funding, leaving the group to struggle for resources.

"It would scare the hell out of the English when they'd hear all these lies coming out of their fat ass country." -Sydney James Harrison

This is a page from the Calendar section of a magazine or newspaper. The text is about an event called "Ask Him What's Under His Skirt," featuring a quote from Sydney James Harrison. The layout includes a calendar page with events listed and a section titled "Music Scene." There are also advertisements for local events and businesses. The page is designed with a mix of text and images, typical of a typical magazine layout.

JOBS GIANT TESTIMONIALS

"The Job Giant has nearly doubled my responses! I now receive five to ten calls on a daily basis from highly qualified people interested in pursuing a career in financial services."

— Douglas DeCarlo, WMA Securities, Inc.

"The response was great! Almost overwhelming! We probably got 50 to 60 calls. At the same time we advertised in the Union-Tribune and the Daily Californian; their combined response was only six to eight calls."

— Christine Werner, Tiger Repographics

"We were astonished to get such a tremendous response in an economy where good sales pros are difficult to find. We hired two top-notch people from that single ad."

— Bill Kinsaid, Improvise On Hold International

"I received 87 calls in the first week, compared to the 10 that I got with an ad in the Sunday paper. What impressed me the most was the quality of the applicants."

— Stephen Potter, Gordon Markets

"The Job Giant has outperformed the Union-Tribune 4 to 1 in getting my phone to ring with qualified people."

— Calvin Linde, Humboldt Valley Farms

"My Job Giant ad is the most productive ad I have ever placed in any publication. I consistently receive calls every day from qualified applicants who are prepared to make the financial commitment to enroll in my classes."

— Hal Gofman, Advanced Training Associates

"More than double the response from San Diego's Sunday newspaper! We are thrilled with the quality of respondents that Job Giant brings us!"

— Kelli Fisher, Reliant Professional, Inc.

"In our San Diego office, Job Giant generates the most response for us, even beating the Union-Tribune! We average 50 calls with each Job Giant ad."

— Joyce Ye, Commercial Maintenance Association

"I've gotten over 100 phone calls, including 40 calls the first day from my display ad in the Job Giant and my classified ads in both the Job Giant and the Reader."

The Heck with Rules

"It's almost a game to see who can find the nearest bottle on the face of the planet."

'U' intersects. I see Tracy Tassos, now Age 86, was a natural as a druggist, page turner and sht Marxian impersonator. We all shared a dish of French, Italian and Chinese. We had to do this particular job every day. Everyone had a different aspect of the business and nothing got us to do the same thing. I thought, "If this was a game, I would have been a better druggist." We all had fun doing it, a whole bunch of us had fun doing it. It's a different world now, but we had a good time doing it. I think Tracy was the best druggist we had. The job was a lot of fun. The people who worked there were great, a lot of fun. We did a lot of different things..."

PICTURE STORY
by the San Diego Historical Society

Late 19th-century cowboys (left to right): Tom McCain, Tom Gray, and George Carrasco. If my research is accurate, Tom McCain was of the family that settled in Pateros in 1852. McCain Valley (between the Laguna Mountains and Boulevard, 50 miles out of San Diego) started as a 200-acre ranch that raised poultry, sheep, and dairy cattle. Perhaps it was Tom's brother, a Will McCain, that was killed in nearby Jacumba on February 27, 1880. He was 17 when he went in search of his stolen horse. He approached a Diegueno Indian settlement to inquire about the theft. A single bullet beneath his left eye was the answer to his plea. He died where he fell. Later, a vengeful posse arrived at the Indian camp to kill 19 children, women, and men.
